Happy Residents of Princeton Community Village Invite You to Open House Sunday

"I just love it here!" exclaimed Barbara Owens, looking out into the woods beyond the Owens' patio, "it's REALLY nice, and everybody is so friendly and happy...."

"Here" is Princeton Community Village, and the Princeton community is invited to the Village this Sunday from 2-4 to see why the Owens family, who used to live on Green Street, and all their new Village neighbors, find "here" so nice and friendly and happy.

To reach the Village, go out North Harrison past the Princeton Shopping Center and ORC. The road bends and if you drove straight ahead you'd hit the yellow "No Outlet" sign at the foot of Bunn Drive. Bear right.

You'll see, on your right, American Can's big triangular sign. Forget American Can's roadway, and take the broad avenue of Bunn Drive, which winds up through the heavily wooded hillside to the ridgetop site of Princeton Community Village.

(Bunn Drive was named for B Franklin Bunn, once mayor of Princeton Township. He was also at one time mayor of the Borough, the only man ever to fill both positions.)

In case there is a down-pouring rain, the Open House will be held the following Sunday, October 12.

On Sunday afternoon, you can stroll around the area, enjoy the dogwood and the oaks, just beginning to turn, and envy the Village residents their individual fenced patios which act as warm sun-traps this time of the year. As many trees as possible have been saved, and they combine with the giant boulders of this hillside to make the kind of landscaping that a landscape architect sometimes must work to achieve.

Landscaping and those boulders do present some problems, however, and several residents have signed up for a course offered by Townsend Scudder of Ambleside, to see what solutions can be worked out.

And something has to be done, too, about play space for the children, who swarm in joyous heedlessness over all those jagged rocks.

But the delight and the relief of Village residents who are finally in and at home, after years of waiting, outweigh any temporary difficulties.

It was eight years ago that the New Jersey Housing Finance Agency established a funding mechanism for middle-income housing. Quickly taking advantage of the new law, several Princeton churches and non-profit institutions in the community formed Princeton Community Housing Inc., a non-profit corporation designed to work with the state to build housing in Princeton for families in the middle and low-income range.

Today, PCH has 21 sponsoring religious, educational and civic organizations ranging from Princeton University to the League of Women Voters to the town's churches.

Borough Sets October 14 as Date for Next Move In Fight to Avoid $400,000 Tax for School Aid

A tentative date—October 14—has been set for the meeting with state officials that may help to free Princeton Borough and Plainsboro from the new $400,000 tax burden the two communities face as a result of the state's new "thorough and efficient" education law.

Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley this week describes to his fellow Borough residents (see below) exactly how Borough and Township happen to be sharing school costs on a per-pupil basis. That basis, if eliminated in favor of a tax rateables basis, as the new law requires, will mean the additional $400,000 tax bill.

The mayor is also directing the task of lining up other towns faced with the same problem. There are about 40. With enough of the right kind of allies, the mayor hopes, Princeton and Plainsboro might be able to persuade the legislature to pass relief legislation.

Assemblyman Karl Weidel told Mayor Cawley he'll introduce two bills: Senator Anne Martindell's "grandfather" clause bill (still in committee in the Senate) that would allow towns already using per-pupil to keep it, and a second bill allowing communities to choose either per-pupil or the rateables formula.

The legislature won't reconvene until after election. Mayor Cawley hopes the body will vote—favorably—early in December.

Meanwhile, he and Plainsboro Mayor Raymond Simonson and Borough Council members Barbara Sigmund, Murray Medvin and Nelson van den Blink have personally telephoned mayors of affected towns ("over half had no inkling!" the mayor reports, "even after the letters we wrote, over a whole year!"). Penelope Edwards, deputy Borough clerk, has been gathering data in preparation for the October 14 meeting. The idea is to get these mayors to talk with their own legislative representatives and urge them to act.

Cawley's statement follows: "While lobbying in Trenton to restore per pupil cost sharing in our regional schools, we Borough officials have neglected to tell our story at home."

"Our object is to maintain the status quo. When the schools were merged in 1966 the two school boards recommended that current expenses in the proposed regional district be shared on a per-pupil basis. There was no public discussion of the ratable option. Per-pupil cost sharing had been the recommendation in the previous unsuccessful referendum (Borough defeated it, Township passed it) and was acclaimed as a method which would not increase school costs in either Borough or Township.

Benefits Foreseen. "The merger agreement was seen by proponents at the time as representing an improvement over both former school systems. The Township would avoid the cost of building their own high school and would gain coordinated kindergarten-through-12 curriculum planning; the Borough would be assured of continued high school enrollment and a more viable middle school. Opponents in the Borough lamented that their pride and joy, the new John Witherspoon school, would not be used as originally intended.

"Now that the present State administration has emphasized ratable cost sharing—largely in the broader context of State school aid allocation—some might wish to evaluate the 1966 merger agreement on that basis. The comparison of per-pupil sharing to ratable sharing has since 1966 become less favorable to the Borough. While the Borough's per pupil sharing has stayed at about 29 per cent, its ratable share has declined from 40 to 35 per cent.

"We think the consequences of this drastic shift in financial burden will be disastrous to local schools and to local services. Even if county government and regional schools should adopt budgets with absolutely no increase in total tax burdens for Princeton Borough, the extra $435,000 this bill would cost the Borough would result in an 8 to 10 per cent increase in the Borough's total tax rate. This might be minimally palatable for our poorer citizens and those on small fixed incomes (10.6 per cent of our citizens are over 65). But in these times of inflation and unemployment, we can expect that county and school budgets will increase significantly.

"The expected larger-than-10 per cent increase in taxes is mind boggling. We would predict that intense pressure will be on to cut services—schools, Borough and Joint. (Another school district which experienced the massive shift of tax burden—seven consecutive defeated bond issues—indicates that this shift can have a terribly disruptive effect on a school district.")

A Risky Policy. "This action by State government would seem to eliminate in a single stroke the chief impediment to municipal consolidation, since the major obstacle has been that same shift in the school tax burden. Consolidation has not been decided upon in our community. No one can say under what conditions consolidation would be accepted by a majority of voters in both municipalities. Indeed it is possible that it would not be accepted if no shift in school costs were to result. Thus to accept that state's action on the basis that it helps consolidation would be extremely risky policy."

We believe that in our district, per pupil cost sharing is fair because the majority of voters in both municipalities (the Township overwhelmingly) voted as if they believed the advantages outweighed the disadvantages. If it is unconstitutional (which can only be tested when per pupil sharing is in effect) we would, of course, yield.

BOARD MEETS

In Quiet Session. At a low-key meeting Tuesday night, the school board announced the first of this year's open executive sessions, adopted a recipe for making school calendars so the whole process won't have to be gone through anew each year, accepted Superintendent Philip E. McPherson's long-awaited statement on goals of the system but decided not to comment on it until the October meeting, and agreed to leave the "bubble" deflated until needed.

The executive session will be next Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. in the board's meeting room in the Valley Road building. The public is invited. A tentative agenda for the meeting will be in all schools Friday.

Calendars will henceforth, be made as follows: winter vacations will be from December 24 to January 1 (inclusive) and will include December 24 if it's a Monday, and January 2 if it's a Monday or Friday. Spring vacation will be five consecutive days starting the first Monday every April.

Schools will be closed: Thanksgiving Day and the day after, Washington's Birthday, Good Friday, Memorial Day, Martin Luther King's birthday, and the Friday before Washington's birthday. Classes will be scheduled for 184 days. If the 184th day is a Monday, only 183 days will be required.

Dr. McPherson said the board should give reasons for its choices. In the only really sharp exchange of the evening, board member Famous moments from mouse sports history. The above drawing shows "Crazylegs mouse" being stopped 3 yards short of the goal line by one of the cheerleaders from Roquetort U. in that memorable game in 1935. The play was called back and "Stilton State" went on to win 12-7.

It was certainly a thrilling event, but no more exciting than our own football weekends here in Princeton. Our little town is always so charged with excitement: people scurrying by, traffic jamming the streets, customers bursting in looking for last minute items like napkins, candles, jewelry to wear to the game or just little gifts for friends.

Remember, while you're out there enjoying the game and the great fall weather, your local mouse is a fun place to stop on the way home. In fact, every once in a while, old "Crazylegs" himself stops in.

Open House Sunday

Like other New Jersey HFA projects, Princeton Community Village is financed by a long-term, low-interest mortgage, using interest subsidies from HUD, the Federal Housing and Urban Development agency. Low-income tenants qualify for additional Federal funds in the form of rent supplements. Payments for the mortgage and operating expenses will be derived from rental income. The Village will pay the Township 15 percent of gross shelter rents in lieu of property taxes.

Current Count: 52. On the 35.5-acre site, there will eventually be 239 units—168 townhouses and 71 one-bedroom apartments. So far, 52 families have moved in—your hosts at Sunday's Open House.

Why has it taken eight years? Administrative problems, delays in approving architectural drawings and choosing a builder, HUD's moratorium on subsidized housing programs and a cliff-hanging reprieve for PCH, red tape.

Almost the first thing, a Residents Council was chosen. Members are Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Sullivan, Evans Revere, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph deThomas, Mrs. Henry Owens, Lamont Fletcher and Jackie Watson. As sections of the Village fill, others will be chosen.

Mr. Fletcher hopes a Children's Council can be elected, too.

"It could handle children's problems—like the kid who's always running off with somebody else's bike—and perhaps impose discipline, like requiring a kid to spend three days working for the superintendent," Mr. Fletcher proposes.

A teacher by profession, Mr. Fletcher automatically thinks of things kids can do—and the Village is full of children. He sees Herrontown Woods next door, and the Village's own woods and wonders whether some enterprising parent or teen might not organize trailblazers.

Village Has a "Center." "There's a chance here to develop real community feeling, a real kind of togetherness," Mr. Fletcher believes. He points out that the Village's community room, to be part of the six-story apartment building scheduled for completion in March, can be a focus for dances (teens), bingo parties (elderly) and general good times (everybody).

Barbara Owens, whose mother is on the Residents Council, sees the coming holiday season as a time for neighborhood parties. So far, there haven't been any parties—everyone is too busy getting settled.

One thing Resident Council members will have to face is The Rules. No pets—unless the pet is small enough to keep in a cage. Roaming dogs would be too difficult to police, cats could stray into the bird sanctuary of Herrontown Woods. The rules were made by the PCH Board of Trustees and the state.

"The area is for KIDS, not for animals," is the emphatic explanation of Marcie Crimmins, representative of the Karl Light real estate firm, managers of the Village.

Kids themselves will be subject to rules, chiefly related to bike-riding.

"A ten-speed bike on a sidewalk is a little dangerous," Mrs. Crimmins observes. "We'd like residents to set up their own rules."

Space Problem. Then, there's the washer-dryer problem. Three-bedroom units haven't enough space for side-by-side machines. This means many residents will have to buy the stacking kind of washer-dryers.

Two-bedroom units, with upstairs laundries, have no vents for dryers or adequate drainage. An overflowing machine could ruin the living-room downstairs so management has ruled against both washers and dryers in these apartments. Community laundry rooms are available.

Superintendent Jack Scott will be working with these harassments. A teacher at Princeton High School, he lives in the Village with his son, who is his job assistant.

"We make things function and run smoothly," he says and adds, with a grin, "I like people."

PCH has no money for amenities. Townsend Scudder offered the landscaping workshops to raise money for the Village's Landscape Committee. About 25 people, paying $10 for three sessions or $4 per session will learn what to do with their own lots, and help PCH at the same time. Next session: this Thursday at 7:30 p.m., John Witherspoon School.

But residents like Barbara Owens and Lamont Fletcher have no complaints. To her delight, late the other evening, Miss Owens encountered a skunk family, out for a stroll on a sidewalk.

"I was shocked—a little scared at first," she laughs, "there are probably a lot of animals, back in the woods."

Sunday, at the Open House, shy woodland animals will probably stay at home. But visitors can wander where they wish. Townhouses, furnished and lived in, will be open for inspection. The PCH Board has provided coffee and doughnuts, to be served outdoors on a parking lot. Hostesses will be resident Villagers Carmela McAllister, Sandra Sprull and Evangeline Stokes. Representatives of the architects will probably be there, too. The project was designed by the firms of Agle, Short and Holt-Morgan-Schwartz.

Judith Getis said he should have brought that up before. The superintendent said he often had and the discussion closed.

Asked by Mrs. Nancy Bruce whether negotiations on staff contracts could be discussed in public, board member Joan Doig said she'd rather ask citizens to examine staff contracts in the public library or board secretary's office and make suggestions. When Mrs. Rosalind Frisch protested that teachers' salaries weren't on file in the library as promised, Mrs. Doig said salaries will be in minutes of this meeting, to go on file after approval at the October meeting.

Raymond Hunt, president of the PREA, the teachers' union, protested that salaries were personal matters. Board president Winthrop Pike said five neighboring school districts confined publication of salaries to minutes of the board meetings, as Princeton plans to do. Since these minutes are public, the decision is a compromise between complete confidentiality and broadside publication, Mr. Pike said.

Dietrich Meyerhofer said the board's policy committee plans a discussion of student hiring procedures in response to criticism of board and staff this summer. Dr. McPherson explained again that he was more concerned with procedures than with the fact that three children of board and staff were hired.

Newly-Formed Ecology Group Joins Appeal
Against Yedlin Project — Hearing Is Monday

A new voice was added this week to opponents of the Yedlin public housing project. Two parties have already filed an appeal from the favorable Planning Board decision regarding the project. All parties will be heard Monday at 8 p.m. before Township Committee.

The newcomer is the Mountain Lakes Brook Watershed Preservation Association, formed to make sure the area is protected against unlimited development. Dr. Baruch Boxer, 167 Laurel Road, Rutgers geography professor and secretary-treasurer of the new group, said Tuesday the group "opposes the idea that a private developer can ignore the danger to people living around a proposed project simply by building it for public housing."

He added, "It is not the purpose of this action to prevent the Yedlin project from going ahead; its purpose is to ensure that proper arrangements be made to protect those below the project and downstream from it."

Asked whether he thought such "proper arrangements" were feasible, from an engineering point of view, he said it was up to the municipality, the state and the Borough Housing Authority to work them out, adding that enough is known about soil erosion so that a proper study would have been made.

Information Needed. Meanwhile, the two dozen neighbors of the Mt. Lucas Road project — among whom are Dr. and Mrs. Boxer — who signed a petition of appeal have not yet met the Township's request for specific reasons for their appeal.

The new Mountain Lakes Brook Association is not a formal appellant. The other appeal is that of Dwight O. North, a member of the Township's Flood Control Committee, who not only challenges the efficiency of the required storm-water retention basin, but charges Township Engineer Joseph Hodak with deliberately offering false testimony at the Planning Board's September 3 hearing. At that hearing, the board unanimously decided Mr. Yedlin and the Housing Authority had met the drainage conditions laid down by the site plan review board.

Mr. North, in a letter to Committee, says Mr. Hodak told him the Planning Board had divided storms into two classes. It was Mr. Hodak's understanding, Mr. North said, that acceptance of basin plans hinged only on basin performance in one kind of storm. Performance in the other class of storm would be regarded as irrelevant by the board, Mr. Hodak believed. The engineer told Mr. North he was satisfied that the basin met the test for the one class of storms, and had therefore testified that it satisfied the "published" condition laid down by site plan members.

Since this reservation on types of storm wasn't disclosed at the Planning Board hearing, Mr. North says, he is charging that the engineer's testimony was misleading. He asks for a "mistrial."

Definition Vague. Mayor Jay Bleiman told his press conference Tuesday that Mr. North may have had a valid point when he says the Township hasn't defined precisely what it means by rate-of-runoff of storm waters. The definition has been that, after a development has been built, the rate of storm-water run-off shouldn't be any greater than the rate before construction. Mr. North says there's a crucial clause that should be added: "...at any and all levels of rainfall."

At lesser levels, he says, the rate is greater, and ordinary, everyday storms are more common than raging floods.

The Mountain Lakes Brook people have a lawyer whom Dr. Boxer will identify only as an expert in environmental work who was once a deputy attorney general of New Jersey. He explained this week that the new organization's long-range purpose is to establish the principle that the whole Mountain Lakes Watershed, a still undeveloped area extending southeast from Mansgrove across Cherry Hill Road, be protected from unlimited development of any kind.

"We'd feel this way about the Yedlin site if he'd planned $80,000 townhouses there instead of public housing," Dr. Boxer said.

At Monday's hearing, appellants will be limited to 45-minute presentations. Rebuttal will be limited to 45 minutes also. Time will be allowed for general audience comment.

Mayor Bleiman said letters supporting the Yedlin project have been received from Princeton Community Housing, Inc., the Witherpoon Presbyterian Church and from an elderly widow who wrote that she is waiting for an apartment in the project.

THEFT REPORT

Stereos Favorite Target. "There must be quite a market for stolen stereos," commented Chief Michael Carnevale this week as he culled the week's larcenies from the Borough police docket.

Reported stolen Saturday evening from a dormitory room in the Graduate College were a stereo amplifier, turntable and speakers with a combined value of $1010. Entry was through a window on the east side of the dorm, police said.

From Brown Hall on the Theological Seminary campus, a thief, who entered a south side window, stole a stereo receiver, speakers and 8-track tape recorder. Total value: $600. The theft was reported at 1:45 Saturday afternoon.

An unlocked room in Wilcox Hall on the university campus yielded a $250 stereo amplifier, 35mm camera with a telescopic lens ($350) and another telescopic lens ($150). The $750 theft, reported early Saturday morning, was investigated by Sgt. Ralph Procaccino.

A university-owned house on University Place was entered last week through an unlocked cellar door and the intruder walked off with a $200 stereo amplifier.

Police also report the theft of two Texas Instrument pocket calculators. One valued at $103 was stolen during the weekend from a desk in a student's room in the Colonial Club.

The other was reported stolen last week by a student, who said that he had left his books and $80 calculator in a cubicle at the University Store. When he returned, the calculator was missing.

In other Borough thefts, a Murray Place resident reported the theft of two wrought iron chairs and table from her front porch—value $150—and a load of scrap copper worth $220 was stolen from a construction site on Chambers Street. The victim was the Hunt and Augustine Construction Co.

Chain Saws Stolen. Township police also listed several thefts last week, ranging from chain saws to aluminum canoes.

Someone last week forced open the garage of Steven DeMauro, 630 Prospect Avenue, and removed two chain saws valued at $368, and two fire extinguishers. In addition, an 8-track tape deck, AM-FM radio and 50 stereo tapes worth $300 were taken from his car. Mr. DeMauro's total loss: $773.

Mrs. James W. Clark, 591 Lake Drive, lost a $255, 17-foot aluminum canoe last week when someone removed it from a canoe holder on the bank of Carnegie Lake behind her house. She told police the canoe was not chained or locked.

Harvey Sydnor, a foreman for the Penn City Elevator Co. of Philadelphia reported the theft of a welding unit from the first floor of a medium rise building under construction by Princeton Community Housing on Bunn Drive. It was valued at $125.

Anything will be an improvement over the last full week in September, which sent another five to six inches of rain our way. After July's performance, the year is virtually certain to set an all-time record for total rainfall.

A cooler trend is on the way, but fair skies are expected to prevail for the rest of the week. Overnight temperature readings in the 40s will become increasingly common in the days ahead, with the first frost likely before the 10th of the month.

Mr. Sydnor told police that the building, in mid-construction, was wide open.

Victor Silverstein, 4 Howe Circle, was the victim of a thief who jacked up his 1975 station wagon last week and removed all of its four radial tires and wheels, including the spare. Taken from inside the car were a tape recorder ($150) and three stereo tapes ($15).

Borough police listed the theft of two car batteries.

A calculator valued at $165.90 was stolen last week from the office of Frederick R. Gething in the MacMillan Building on the University campus.

There were two thefts from cars parked at the Westminster Choir College lot.

A wire was pushed through a front window jamb to open a locked car containing a $60 tape deck and 25 tapes valued at $100 owned by David Parks of Selingsgrove, Pa.

Jayne McCue of 102 Princeton Hall lost an 8-track tape deck and a hunting knife. Her total loss, including damage to her vent window, was $146.

YOUTH FACES CHARGES

After Stealing Car. What began as a joy ride in a stolen car has ended in both Borough and Township police filing charges against an 18-year old Kendall Park youth.

Robert P. Aiman has been charged with possession of stolen property by Township police and larceny of an auto by Borough police. He has been released in $250 bail from the Borough charge.

Aiman allegedly stole a 1971 yellow Volkswagen between 6:40 and 8:20 Saturday from FitzRandolph Road. Police identified the owner as Frederick Bohen, 128 FitzRandolph.

At 10:33 that evening, Township police received a call from University Security that they had stopped the car in the vicinity of Caldwell Field House near Jadwin Gym. Ptl. Jerry Offredo responded and assisted in the arrest of Aiman, who was then turned over to Borough police.

The car was valued at $2,000. Police said the keys were inside the car when it was stolen.

SPEEDERS ARE FINED

In Borough Court. Eight Princeton area residents were fined Monday in Borough traffic court for speeding.

They are Lynda Tessein, Princeton Arms, Cranbury, $20; Peggy L. Bayer, 610 Snowden Lane, $15; Jean J. Byrne, 55 Stockton Street, $200; Carmen E. Potter, West Drive, $15; Glenn C. Perantoni, 37 Washington Street, Rocky Hill, $17; Margaret Turitzin, 102 Dempsey Avenue, $17; Louis P. Intartaglia, 68 Clearview Avenue, $15; and Katherine Book, 75 Gallup Road, who was fined a total of $35 for speeding and no license in possession.

Five were fined for careless driving. Gary C. Bussell, Camp Meeting Road, Hopewell; Brian Shannon, 103 Patton Avenue, and Bruce E. Anderson, 12 Park Place, all paid $20. Habi Moghanaki, 50 Linden Lane, was fined $15, and George D. Parnos of the Pennington School, Pennington, was fined $10 court costs after his $10 fine was suspended.

Greg E. Robinson, 100 Hamilton Avenue, and Kun Lee, 2816 New Grad College, paid $20 and $15 respectively for red light violations.

Having no lights on his bicycle cost Paul Frank, Princeton Inn College, $5. Walter J. Skoriak, 9 Merritt Lane, Rocky Hill, paid two $10 fines, one for late inspection and the second for no license or registration in possession.

CIVIL SUIT CONTINUES

Lavernoich vs. Princeton. The case of Lawrence Lavernoich, acting as his own attorney, against Princeton University has been under way for several weeks of trial in Superior Court, Mercer County Courthouse, Judge Hervey S. Moore, Jr. presiding.

Mr. Lavernoich, who was denied a Ph.D. degree from the now defunct Department of Slavic Languages and Literature at Princeton, claims a conspiracy against him by former Princeton president Robert F. Goheen, the board of trustees, the three Lee, 2816 New Grad College, paid $20 and $15 respectively for red light violations.

The University contends that in failing twice the required portion of the general examinations, which he took in 1969 and again in 1970, Mr. Lavernoich was subject to denial. Princeton claims that the degree was refused "within the discretion vested in the university."

HAI CHAPTER OPENS

Brings Art to Institutionalized. HAI, a non-profit volunteer organization and an acronym for Hospital Audiences, Incorporated, has opened a chapter in New Jersey under the direction of Joan Modzelewski of Moran Avenue. Its purpose is to open the doors to the world of the arts to people locked out through institutionalization and economic isolation.

Founded in 1969 by a concert pianist, Michael Jon Spencer, who began by giving recitals to patients in New York City hospitals, the organization now numbers 17 chapters nationwide and reaches 100,000 people a year in over 500 institutions. Mr. Spencer went on to solicit donations of free tickets from producers to Broadway and off-Broadway shows for people long isolated from society.

Ms. Modzelewski, a nurse and a playwright, is working with the producers at McCarter and Murray theaters so that men from the Rescue Mission in Trenton, patients at NJNPI, and unwed mothers from the Florence Crittendon home and senior citizens are able to enjoy an evening at the theater. Ms. Modzelewski is looking for people with talent who are willing to perform in institutions as well as for volunteers interested in acting as escorts at these events. She may be reached at 924-8412.

Hathaway hikes out in a rugged, Canadian plaid.

Hathaway's newest Lochlana is the Calgary Plaid. In looks, it smacks of the big outdoors. However, in feel, this supple weave of 80% cotton and 20% wool is spun so soft, it could make a Mountie purr. (And, it's machine washable!) The Calgary Plaid is one of many bold and colorful Canadian patterns.

terfering with adolescents on two occasions, one on Jefferson Road and the other last Wednesday afternoon on Wiggins Street when he allegedly exposed himself.

Presently free on $250 bail, Smith was scheduled to appear in Borough court this Wednesday.

After police were notified last week by a call that a man was exposing himself on Wiggins Street, Sgt. Robert Anderson and Sgt. Thomas Mischaud searched the area without success. Smith was later picked up by Ptl. Harry Morton and Ptl. Robert Nielsen of the Township on the corner of Houghton and Moore, and turned over to Borough police.

POLITICS

Consolidation Opposed. Jan Schneier, Democratic candidate for Borough Mayor, has announced that she opposes any effort to seek municipal consolidation with Princeton Township at this time. Mayor Robert W. Cawley, running against Mrs. Schneier, is usually regarded as in favor of consolidation.

"I cannot support such a step" she says, "until I am convinced that it will benefit Borough residents economically, socially and politically."

She cites last week's passage of the "thorough and efficient" education bill ("Number 1516") and observes that "The effect of this legislation will be to raise the Borough tax rate substantially and to lower taxes in the Township."

"In addition to questions of finance, however, the people's own views are involved. Many Borough residents are strongly attached to small-scale, personal government. Although consolidation may appear sensible to some, at least on paper, a closer analysis suggests that political merger with the Township now would not result in an overall benefit to Borough residents."

"Many key services are already provided by regional boards and commissions — library, planning, sewers, civil rights and recreation, to mention a few," she continues. "For problems that transcend municipal boundaries, such regional solutions are appropriate. Other governmental services, however, are better provided locally. Police, zoning, rent-levelling and housing, for example, are properly the responsibility of local people."

"The kinds of issues that arise in the Borough differ in Clean-Up Week!

Borough and Township householders, fresh from attic and basement, are invited to put things out for the Clean-up truck this week. In the Township, collection is by election districts:

Monday—Districts 1 & 4
Tuesday—5, 6, 10
Wednesday—3, 9, 12
Thursday—2, 11
Friday—7, 8, 13

Branches and twigs must be tied in bundles not more than 12 inches in diameter. Use rope or twine (no wire). Stack larger branches in short lengths. Put lawn debris in plastic bags or cartons. All trash must be at curb-side by 8 a.m.

Borough collections will be made on regular garbage collection days.

nature and in detail from those in the Township. The population of the Borough is smaller, more concentrated, older, poorer and yet more diverse than that of the Township. Since the populations of the two communities differ so strikingly, they demand different solutions to many problems."

Borough residents are represented by seven elected officials, though the Township has the larger population. "Consolidation," Mr. Schneier declares, "would surely dilute the individual Borough resident's political power and make participation in the community's political life more difficult."

LECTURE SERIES SET

Julian Bond to Speak. Julian Bond, state senator from Georgia and one of the forerunners of The New Politics, will lecture at The Lawrenceville School's Kirby Arts Center, on Tuesday, October 7, at 8 p.m. This first program in Lawrenceville's 1975-76 Heely Lecture Series is open to the public at no charge.

Mr. Bond was elected in 1965 to the Georgia House of Representatives, but was barred from taking his seat by legislators who objected to his statements on the war in Vietnam. Despite winning two special elections in 1966, he still did not take his seat until 1967 after a U.S. Supreme Court decision that the Georgia legislature had erred in refusing him his place. He eventually served four terms in the House and, in November of 1974, was elected to the State Senate, where he now serves.

LAST BIKE RIDE SET

Ry Windsor Recreation Committee. The last Family Bike Ride of the 1975 Summer series run by the Bicycle Committee of the West Windsor Recreation Commission will depart from the Maurice Hawk School at 10, Saturday, October 11.

The ride will be a 31 mile tour of the Millstone River Valley through Plainsboro, Aqueduct, Kingston, Griggstown, Blackwells Mills, Rocky Hill and Princeton—three counties and nine municipalities. Cyclists are advised to bring food and drink.

Complaints about Mail Service? Post Office Has Special Form on Which to Make Them

The U.S. Postal Service this week introduces a program at the Princeton Post Office and other offices across the nation to encourage mail users to register problems they may have with their mail service. At the core of the program is a consumer service card, through which problems are identified and which postal managers attempt to resolve expeditiously.

Postmaster Basil Ferrara urged customers in Princeton to bring their inquiries and complaints to the attention of postal managers, and if they feel their problems have not been properly handled, the Postmaster said they should see him personally. To make it easier for a customer to make a suggestion or complaint about postal service the new consumer service card will be available from letter carriers and at post offices.

Postmaster Ferrara said the card is two postals with carbon paper between them. "One copy goes to me or a manager, so work can begin on the problem," he said. "The other goes to Postal Service Headquarters in Washington for cataloging and analysis. The card will help management spot problem areas and trends, and take corrective action if necessary."

"We want you to come to us with your problems," Mr. Ferrara said. "The whole point of this service program is to bring your problems and gripes out into the open, where we can attempt to resolve them."

People who would like more information or would like to help plan future rides or join in other activities of the Bicycle Committee may call committee chairman Bob Bell at 799-2312.

STAMP AUCTION SET

At Public Library. The Princeton Public Library has invited children of all ages to a stamp auction Wednesday, October 15. Collectors should bring their stamps to the Library's meeting room at 3:30. It is suggested that they bring duplicates for trading as well as their favorite album pages, which will be displayed throughout the room.

Book Break, a weekly book discussion group for ages 9-14 resumes on Friday, October 17, at 3:30.

A new series of films for children 6 and up begins on Thursday, October 23, at 3:30 with a 25 minute color film entitled "Family Adventures on a Wild River."

DAY WITH AUTHORS SET

As YWCA Adult Program. Exploring the Writers' World, a day with area authors, will be held at the YWCA on Avalon Place, Saturday, November 8, from 10-2:30.

Fletcher Knebel will moderate a morning panel discussion titled "Why Write? The What Are the Satisfaction," seminars will be conducted by with Carlos Baker, Laura Eugene Raudsepp, president Bergquist, George Garrett of Princeton Creative and John McPhee. In the Research, Inc. For afternoon, small seminars on registration and/or more subjects of their choice will be information call 924-3215, or led by Nathaniel Burt, Connie Greiff, Emmet Hughes, Research, Inc., P.O. Box 122.

Edmund Keeley, Ashley Montagu, Julian Moynahan, Peter Putnam and Ralph Schoenstein.

The event has been planned as a part of the YWCA Adult Program. Carin Laughlin and Ruth Wilson head a committee which includes Arlene Berman, Phyllis Marchand, Florence Peters, Gloria Smith and Ruth Thornton.

Advance registration is necessary at $3 per person and will include lunch. Registration forms are available at the YWCA office, the Princeton Public Library or by contacting committee members. For further information call Anne O'Brien at 924-4825, ext. 22.

SEMINARS SCHEDULED

On Creative Development. A series of seminars on Creativity and Creative Problem Solving will be held at the Unitarian Church beginning Tuesday, October 14, at 8 p.m. Consisting of ten seminars, each two hours long, the course will be held on 10 successive Tuesday nights.

The course is designed for those who want to learn how to develop and stimulate their creativity and their creative problem solving capacities, and how to put these enhanced capacities to work to help solve problems in all areas of working and living. The seminars will be conducted by with Carlos Baker, Laura Eugene Raudsepp, president Bergquist, George Garrett of Princeton Creative and John McPhee. In the Research, Inc. For afternoon, small seminars on registration and/or more subjects of their choice will be information call 924-3215, or led by Nathaniel Burt, Connie Greiff, Emmet Hughes, Research, Inc., P.O. AT ROCKY HILL SATURDAY: A touch of Tivoli at the Bid 'n' Buy will be the puppet show performed by Philip Hayden, Brian Shafer and Chris Eveleigh. (Clem Fiori Photo)

FAIR, AUCTION COMING
To Rocky Hill Saturday. Rocky Hill's 10th annual Bid 'n' Buy — the fall fair and auction — will be held on Saturday. This fund-raising fete benefits the Rocky Hill Community Group, which maintains and restores a pre-Revolutionary house on Washington Street where a full program of historical, educational and recreational projects is carried on each year. From 10 to 5, rain or shine, Panicaro Park on Rt. 518 will be the center for booths and activities planned to please all comers and all ages. An aura of harvest time will prevail, courtesy of Cortelyou's Farm: the field will be festooned with pumpkins, bales of hay and cornstalks. Visitors can don informal clothes and join the fun of the old time country fair, where they can participate in relay races, tug-o-wars, bubble gum blowing contests, and watch for Rocky Hill's own medicine man, with an authentic, handed down pitch from corn. Calgary, selling "that god-given, quick-acting, easy to take balm, Dr. Bokakiak's famous Eliptical Asiatical Pendicural, Nervous Cordial and Rejuvenator. It makes hens lay more eggs, cows give more milk, and the butterflies more butter." An added harvest time attraction this year is the Produce Contest. Awards will be given for the biggest home grown pumpkin, zucchini, sunflower, watermelon, tomato, cucumber, pole bean, carrot, cabbage and ear of corn. bicentennial license plate covers will be on sale, will also offer a booklet of personal recollections by Thayer Bolmer, who lived in Rocky Hill all his life. Adding to the Bicentennial flavor will be a display of old slides, photographs and memorabilia gathered by the Rocky Hill Community Group, Princeton Historical Society and the Canal Coalition.

There will be booths of handicrafts, books, white elephants, food, plants and Rocky Hill aprons. Handicrafts will feature decorative wreaths and leather patches, calico flowers, clowns filled with penny candy, flannel-board dolls for preschoolers, crewel work and wall plaques. The knit and crochet booth will offer an assortment of baby clothes, hat and scarf sets, Christmas stockings and ornaments, pot holders, vests, sweaters and bookworms.

The oldest band in New Jersey — The Blawenburg Band — will play throughout the afternoon, and refreshments will include Italian meatball sandwiches, hot dogs, pickled eggs, soda, cider and coffee. The Rocky Hill First Aid and Rescue Squad will be on hand, and the Rocky Hill Volunteer Fire Company will provide cotton candy, popcorn, and even a hayride. The gourmet booth will sell penny candy, taffy apples, drinks, along with their varied and tempting assortment of local gourmet delights.

The Green Thumb booth will offer a large assortment of house plants, a selection of Emperor tulip bulbs, white daffodils, and crocuses, plus pumpkins, Indian corn, vegetables and cut flowers. Another booth that has become a highlight of the Bid 'n' Buy, like the aprons, is the a distinctive array of color and design.

Children will be entertained throughout the day with a wide variety of activities. Philip Hayden, Brian Shafer and Chris Eveleigh will twice present a puppet show for preschoolers. There will be contests and races, games of skill and craft, pony rides, a selection of treasures at the White Elephant Table for Wee Ones, and a constant supply of good things to eat.

Under the big tent will be the Auction, with auctioneers Vic Washkevich and Bill Geoghan. Items will include furnishings for any room, tools for house or yard, athletic equipment, baby supplies, silver, pewter, a new vacuum cleaner, a sewing machine, bikes and picture frames. A water color pain-

Vote Tuesday, Nov. 4

Barbara and Abbot

THE RECORD

Since 1973 there has been a Democratic majority on Princeton Township Committee. In these 3 years Township Committee has taken these significant steps to improve life in Princeton.

• FISCAL RESPONSIBILITY

Adopted new budgetary procedures and a Six-year capital budget and program

• FLOOD CONTROL

Made Federal Flood Insurance available to township residents. Prohibited further construction in Township flood plains

• PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

Established THE LOOP BUS and CROSSTOWN 62.

• ENVIRONMENTAL CONTROL

Adopted an environmental design review ordinance

• OPEN SPACE AND RECREATION

Initiated the development of the north side of Community Park... there will be a lake, picnic area, and amphitheater.

• BIKE PATHS AND WALKWAYS

Creating a network of bicycle paths and walkways to provide safe routes for our school children, bikers, walkers, and joggers.

A Democratic Township Committee

Local Government at its best.

ting by an artist from this area has been donated; a 6-foot by 6-foot plant will be auctioned, a Husky puppy dog, plus gift certificates from various merchants.

Under the same tent will be the Silent Auction, which pools people's talent, time, services and equipment, and offers it to the highest bidder. Bids may be made on a day of pleasure in a plane, canoe or pool, lessons in piano, or a language, a tasty dish from any of the seven continents, a magician, a craftsman, or a babysitter.

The 10th annual Bid 'n' Buy will provide the community with an occasion to honor the past Postmaster, Jim and Agnes O'Malley, who have served Rocky Hill through their work at the Post Office for the past 24 years, will return on Saturday to receive a token of appreciation and to help celebrate the fair.

LANDSCAPE IDEAS AIRED
In Benefit Workshop
Thursday. The second of three Landscape Workshops to benefit the Landscape Fund of Princeton Community

Village, Inc. is scheduled for Thursday at 7:30 at the John Witherspoon School, Walnut Lane. Townsend Scudder of Ambleside Gardens and Nursery in Belle Mead, who is donating his services, will discuss the Princeton area as it affects the selection of trees, plants and shrubs and will suggest ways of making the most of local conditions.

The final lecture will be next Thursday, October 9. Admission is $4, and all proceeds will go to the Board of Trustees of Princeton Community Village, Marianne Rees, president, to be used with the assistance of local garden clubs in furthering the landscaping around PC Village.

An Open House will be held Sunday at PC Village from 2-5. Interested citizens are invited to visit the 238-unit, non-profit, low to middle income housing project on Bunn Drive. Refreshments will be served.

ITEMS SOUGHT

For Windsor Lions Auction. The West Windsor Lions are still seeking items from merchants and individuals for their annual fall auction which will be held Saturday, October 25, on Hightstown Road in Princeton Junction. Items are tax deductible, and the Lions will issue a receipt for income tax purposes.

Some of the items already received include a new oriental rug, a weekend at the shore, an oil and grease job, an auto rebate, a sofa, portable TVs, bicycles, dinners for two at restaurants, and garden and lawn equipment. To donate items or services, contact any Lions Club member, or call Howard Eldridge, 452-9579, Fred Froehlich, 799-0269, or Bernt Midland, 799-1642, for pick-up.

The Lions are also selling raffle tickets for a quilt made by the West Windsor Teen Agers Club which will be raffled off at the auction at 4 p.m. The quilt is on display at the library in Dutch Neck. Tickets are 50 cents, and all proceeds will be given to the senior citizens. Tickets may be purchased from a Lion Club member or at Will's Shell Station, Lucar Hardware, and Princeton Junction Liquor Store.

PROGRAMS OFFERED

In Personal Finance at YMCA. Making Money Count, Investments on the Stock market, and Real Estate Investments are three programs now receiving registrants at the YMCA.

The "Make Your Money Count" seminar is geared to help individuals and families understand insurances, credit, estate planning and trusts. Lecturers will include Nicholas Carnevale, vice-president of the Howe Agency; James Conlon, investment officer, and George Sirusas, vice-president of the New Jersey National Bank. The four sessions will meet at the YMCA on Thursdays beginning October 16 from 8-9:30 p.m.

Richard Raffis of Laidlaw-Coggeshall Co., Palmer Square, will conduct the Investments seminar, which will give basic orientation in the stock market, on four Wednesdays beginning October 8 from 8-10 p.m.

Topics for the Real Estate Investments Program will include property analysis, financing, tax shelter depreciation and property management. Edward Goldberg will conduct the seminars with guest lectures on four Tuesdays, beginning October 7, from 8-10 p.m. All three programs welcome members as well as non-YMCA members at modest fees.

HEALTH STORE OPENS

In Lawrenceville. The Village Health Store has opened in Lawrenceville at 2649 Main Street. It is operated by Mrs. Joseph Vitella, whose husband is owner of the Lawrence Pharmacy next door.

The store offers a full line of health foods and organically grown foods plus a complete selection of nutritional and dietary supplements and vitamins.

Mrs. Vitella — "Packy" to all her friends — reports that the public is increasingly aware of the removal of nutrients by food processors and is demanding greater supplies of unprocessed food. She adds that "government studies have also revealed that a growing number of our citizens are not eating a balanced diet that will supply the minimum daily requirements of essential vitamins and minerals."

For those who don't feel the need for vitamins or dietary supplements, Mrs. Vitella has fertile eggs, cheeses, ice cream and "all sorts of goodies." In addition, she has a selection of hanging pots and small plants.

The Village Health Store is open 9:30 to 5:30, Monday through Friday, and 9:30 to 1 on Saturday.

AGENCY MOVES

To 22 Chambers St. Lenhart Advertising has moved to the Pickering Building, 22 Chambers Street. After 20 years in Princeton, the agency returned to the central business district of the Borough from 353 Nassau St. for the convenience of its clients and suppliers. The telephone number remains the same, 609-921-8888.

The firm is headed by R.L. "Doc" Lenhart, a founding director and former president of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Lenhart is also owner of Lenhart Publishing Company, publishers of the Princeton Bicentennial Fact Book.

WHAT IS A FREEHOLDER?

The Mercer County 7-member Freeholder Board spends about 30% of your property taxes — supposedly for County services, such as road maintenance, Mercer Metro, parks, etc. Under the new form of government with a County Executive, the Freeholder Board will be a legislative and policy-making body.

"Changes are desperately needed in the County — long-range planning, greater fiscal responsibility, open government and joint problem-solving between municipalities, spearheaded by the County. My record as East Windsor's first councilwoman, my degree in Political Science from Goucher College, and my civic activities provide an in-depth background to initiate the new form of government."

BAZAAR PREVIEW SET

Tuesday at Stuart School. Mrs. Elaine Ritchey, chairman of this year's Stuart Christmas Bazaar Preview, has invited early shoppers to sample a selection of handmade items at the school on Tuesday from 11 to 3.

Orders will be taken for Christmas gifts, and those who like to start early on their holiday giving list may choose from a varied array of cards, decorations, dried and silk flowers, gourmet foods, hand knitted items, house plants, custom designed wrap skirts, photographs and terrariums. All orders will be delivered December 6 at the Bazaar.

A special feature will be colonial breads baked that day by Frank Clark. A light luncheon will also be served and shoppers are welcome to browse, select, enjoy and bring a friend.

CONTRIBUTIONS SOUGHT

By First Aid Squad. The Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad has launched an appeal for operating funds, citing its 24-hour, year-round service to the Princeton Community.

The volunteer organization is committed to keeping the kind of equipment that is most up-to-date, and most efficient, for the hundreds of life-saving services the Squad performs. This equipment will span the time and assistance gap that exists between sickness or injury and doctor or hospital.

To speed emergency help is the goal of the First Aid and Rescue Squad which has the experience, the equipment and the manpower that has saved many lives in the past 35 years.

Right now, the Squad reports, the urgent need is money: money to pay for 24-hour, 365-days-a-year operations, building expansion and new equipment. A mail solicitation is being sent to Princeton Borough and Township residents. Contributions should be mailed to P.O. Box 529, Princeton.

VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT

For Skillman Institute. Orientation for new volunteers at New Jersey Neuro-Psychiatric Institute at Skillman will be held Wednesday, October 15, at 9:30 a.m. Opportunities are available for volunteers of all backgrounds who have as

HEALTH FAIR PLANNED

In Lawrence Township, "Health Awareness for Everyone" is the motto of the Lawrence Township Health Fair to be held Saturday, October 25, from 9-5 at the Trenton Artillery Armory on Eggers Crossing Road. The Fair is jointly sponsored by the Lawrence Neighborhood Service Center and the 4th BN 112th Field Artillery of the New Jersey ARNG.

There will be films, exhibits, demonstrations, literature and actual screenings provided by over 65 participating agencies. Demonstrations will range from acupuncture to poison control; screenings will cover health hazards such as heart risk, hypertension, diabetes, glaucoma, oral cancer, anemia and pre-school and early school age hearing difficulties.

Admission is free, and transportation is available to those in Lawrence Township who need it by calling 292-3870 or 292-3871 the day of the Fair. Any organization wishing to make a contribution to defray the expenses of the Health Fair should make a check payable to the Lawrence Health Fair Committee and send it care of the Lawrence Neighborhood Service Center, 295 Eggers Crossing Road, Lawrenceville.

SLIDE PROGRAM SET

On Historic Somerset County. The Mary Jacobs Library, 64 Washington Street, Rocky Hill, will present a Somerset County Bicentennial Slide Program Friday, October 9, at 8 consisting of slides and commentary on a number of historic landmarks in Somerset County. The evening will include three programs on specific homes: the Wallace House, the home in which Washington spent the winter of 1778-1779; Rockingham, the house which served as Washington's headquarters at the close of the Revolution; and the Frelinguysen House, a national historic site which now houses the Raritan Public Library, the Frelinguysen Museum and the New Jersey Room of the Somerset County Library.

The program is free and open to the public. For further information, call Sheila Hess, 924-7073.

News Of The CHURCHES

FUNDS STILL NEEDED

For Vietnamese Resettlement. To date, the Ad Hoc Committee on Refugee Relocation has received cash or commitments of approximately $4,000 to aid in the resettlement of two Vietnamese families. However, there is a continuing need for funds for the interim period before the refugees have mastered English and are able to find jobs with which to support themselves.

Contributions should be sent to the Lutheran Church of the Messiah, 407 Nassau Street. All contributions will be promptly acknowledged, but if a donor does not receive an acknowledgment, the church office should be contacted at 924-3642.

SARUM RITE SET

At Two Episcopal Churches. Trinity Church will commemorate the Feast of St. Francis with a Sarum Rite to be held Saturday at 5:30. Medieval music, liturgy and vestments will be used during this ceremony, which originated in Salisbury, England, during the Middle Ages. The service will be preceded with a Blessing of the Animals in front of the Mercer Street door to the Church.

A similar ceremony based on this ancient rite will be held at All Saints Church at 5 on Sunday, but the Blessing will take place in front of the Cross in the Church cemetery.

Everyone is invited to bring animals to be blessed, provided they are properly leashed, bridled or caged and provision is made for their care outside the church during the service.

GUITARIST TO PLAY

To Aid Organ Restoration. Alice Artzt, classical guitarist, will give a benefit concert for the Organ Restoration Fund of the Nassau Presbyterian Church on Sunday, October 12, at 3:30. There will be a free-will offering.

Ms. Artzt studied the guitar in France with Ida Presti and Alexander Lagoya and in England with Julian Bream.

At her debut in London in 1969, the London Daily Telegraph wrote of the "power and refreshing exuberance" in her playing. She has toured extensively, recorded two albums for Gemini records of England and had works dedicated to her by several composers.

MINISTER CALLED

To River Road Church. Billy B. Bowen has been named minister at Princeton Church of Christ, 33 River Road, Kingston. Born in Alabama, Mr. Bowen has been associated with the University Church of Christ at Michigan State University, East Lansing, Mich., for the past six years working with university students.

He is a graduate of Jacksonville State University, Harding Graduate School of Religion in Memphis, Tenn. and the University of Alabama. He has completed requirements for a Ph.D. from Michigan State University.

ASSISTANT NAMED

For Six Mile Run Church. The Rev. Charles L. Higgins

has joined the staff of the Six Mile Run Reformed Church, Route 27, Franklin Park, as assistant minister. He is a graduate of Franklin High School and Rutgers College, where he majored in religion.

During his studies at New Brunswick Theological Seminary from which he graduated magna cum laude in May, the Rev. Mr. Higgins was a recipient of the Ernest R. Palen Scholarship Award, the Lodewick Prize for Preaching and the Rogers Old Testament Prize. He was ordained in July at the South Bound Brook Reformed Church.

BULLETINS

The Men's Club of the First Baptist Church of Princeton will hold a Turkey Shoot at the Archway Tavern (formerly Kidd Eddy's), Route 27, Little Rocky Hill, Saturday at 8 a.m. The rain date will be October 18. Felix Pettiford is chairman, Theodore Kennedy, assistant chairman.

The Women's Division of The Jewish Center will open this year's programs next Wednesday at 8:15 p.m. at the Jewish Center. The evening will be a study and evaluation by women on women—their roles and aspirations for themselves and for their children within the Jewish community.

Four study groups, led by Center members, will focus on different areas of special concern: The Place for Sisterhood in Women's Division will be led by JoAnn Carchman, Sexism in Jewish Education by Mildred Kranzler, The American Jewish MS by Merle Feld, and Let Us Sing a New Song Unto the Lord by Ruth Schulman.

Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

OBITUARIES

Osborn E. Stout, 76, of 235 Washington Road, died September 24 at Princeton Medical Center. A lifetime resident of Princeton, he was a retired employee of Belle Mead General Depot.

Mr. Stout was a member of the Royal Arcanum, Princeton Council 1065 and a member of the Princeton Baptist Church, Penns Neck.

Husband of the late Susan Stout, he is survived by three daughters; Mrs. Muriel Skiles of Phoenix, Ariz., Mrs. Betty Hadan of Manville, N.J., and Mrs. Adele Danley, with whom he resided; 10 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

The service was held at the Kimble Funeral Home, the Rev. Donald L. Snyder, pastor of the Princeton Baptist Church at Penns Neck, officiating. Interment was in Penns Neck Cemetery. Contributions may be made to the Princeton Baptist Church at Penns Neck.

Mrs. Helen E. Bache, 81, of 261 Snowden Lane, died September 26 in Princeton Medical Center. Born in New York City, she lived in Princeton since 1956.

Mrs. Bache was a 1914 graduate of Vassar College. She was a former resident of St. Michael's, Md., where she and her late husband, Frank S. Bache, bred Aberdeen Angus cattle. She was a member of the Vassar College Alumnae Association, the Princeton Medical Center volunteers and the Unitarian Church.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Zachary B. Shwal of New York; two sons, Kenneth of Accra, Ghana, and G. Michael Bache of Maplewood; and six grandchildren.

A memorial service was held at the Unitarian Church the Rev. Robert Cope, pastor, officiating. Contributions may be made to the American Friends Service Committee in New York City.

Robert A. Landen, 27, of 2512 Fox Run Drive, died September 25 at the Princeton Medical Center as a result of an automobile accident September 21 on the Princeton-Plainsboro Road.

Mr. Landen was born in Oceanside, L.I., and was a resident of Plainsboro for the past three years. He was a member of the bowling league and manager of the girls' softball team at Fox Run. He was also a member of the bridge club.

The service was held at a Cranbury funeral home, the Rev. G. Frederick Schott, pastor of the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church in Princeton Junction, officiating.

Grand Opening!

Astute home seekers, please note that all homes in this new section are equipped with gas heat, representing some of the last new installations in the state. Also note that in keeping with Hidden Lake's new policy, choice homesites are available for custom building - from your plans and by your own architect/builder team if you prefer. Visit this week while lot selections and mortgage terms are at their best.

Section V is now under construction and the results are becoming evident. This lushly wooded section will undoubtedly be the crowning section of the neighborhood that has become the standard for all New Jersey luxury home communities. The gently curving streets, the premium locations are all ready for you to choose from. So too, is our brand-new model area.

AND A CASTLE YOU MIGHT CALL YOUR OWN

with all the grace and charm and, yes, fun, that goes with a turn of the century home - high ceilings, spacious rooms, interesting woodwork, wide halls and handsome staircases. Big, bold and beautiful, this house can handle a large family with ease, or be scaled down to the needs of a smaller one desiring large rooms for entertaining. Living room, library and dining room, all with fireplace, all spacious, can be opened to each other - or closed off for privacy. An ultra modern kitchen with nearby new double-lavatory powder room, a completely redecorated third floor children's suite of two bedrooms, playroom with fireplace and new bath -

This house combines the best of both old and new!

Total of six bedrooms, four full and two half baths. Even an upstairs laundry with fireplace!

Choice western, borough location, and new on the market at $189,000

A STONE HOUSE

as rare as a day in June, this handsome, perfectly maintained home is set on an attractive corner lot in a fine residential area of Pennington. The welcoming entry hall leads to a spacious L-shaped living room with stone fireplace. Down a few steps from the excellent kitchen is a formal dining room that can double as conference room for a home oriented profession. A recreation room, study or fourth bedroom plus roughed in bath, laundry and utility room complete this lower level.

Quality is evident throughout from the full basement with steel beam construction, fine masonry work, and the generous size of the three bedrooms and two tiled baths.

A small terrace to one side of the house, a covered slate patio at the back (great for rainy day barbecues) a lot bordered by pines for complete privacy, and a double attached garage. That's the story of this fine listing which we are proud to present at $88,500

SOUTH BRUNSWICK TOWNSHIP: We offer a brick ranch home in excellent condition in a rural setting. There is a foyer, living room with fireplace, kitchen, dining area, three bedrooms and a bath. The basement has a utility room plus a separate apartment at $46,500

WEST WINDSOR: Our best buy in West Windsor is a three bedroom house, a ranch, within walking distance of the high school. In a friendly neighborhood, the house has a recent addition of a kitchen with all conveniences, and a family room with sliding glass doors to the patio. The owners are anxious to sell at the price of $47,500.

PRINCETON: Our newest listing is a ranch on a well landscaped lot near the Princeton Shopping Center. It has a living room with fireplace, kitchen, small dining area, 2 bedrooms and bath. Very well kept, it can be had for the special price of $46,500

PRINCETON: In a convenient location is an older stucco house with a small garden, 2 car garage and enclosed shed. The house is in need of decoration, but it could be very special. It has a good-sized living room, dining room, and kitchen on the first floor and 3 large bedrooms and bath upstairs. The price is appealing at the price of $29,500

LAWRENCE TOWNSHIP: It is unusual to find a good ranch, and this one is well constructed of stone and stucco, and has all the custom features that are hard to find, such as plaster walls and hardwood floors. Perfect for a couple, or small family, it includes a large living room with fireplace, a formal dining room, a well planned St. Charles kitchen with an eat-in area, 2 large bedrooms each with a bath, and a jalousied Florida room.
The grounds are lovely, and can be surveyed from the flagstone terrace.
This property is available immediately, and is a real find. The owners are asking $89,000

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP: One of a kind, and a most unusual kind, it is a three-quarter acre wooded lot on a lightly travelled, winding road (Mt.
Lucas). It has all utilities and may be built on right now $2,500

TWO FINE FALL RENTALS - A mini-estate close to Princeton offers four bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths, large living and play areas plus a pool and tennis court. Owners are asking $790 per month

In Lawrence Township, an immaculate 4 bedroom home with living room, eat-in kitchen, and bath and full basement, now available at $325

Princeton Community Village

The new neighborhood in town

Princeton Community Village is an innovative and exciting place to live. Planned to reflect the variety of people within the larger community of Princeton, the Village combines the conveniences of modern architecture with the pleasures of old-fashioned neighborhood living.

The Village exists today because educational, religious and civic groups in Princeton got together to build reasonably priced housing for the people who have contributed much to Princeton — people like the deThomases and Lamont Fletcher, enthusiastic Village residents, who now live close to their jobs.

Convenience was a key concern to Ralph and Sherry deThomas when they applied to Princeton Community Village. Ralph is a research librarian at Gallup and Robinson; Sherry does part time microfilming work there. Both appreciate the short distance between work and their new home. Both are strong backers of the Village concept and have already agreed to serve on the Residents' Council. Their children, 5-year-old Rachel and 3-year-old Dylan, love to play in the woods surrounding their new home.

Lamont Fletcher, a Princeton native, teaches kindergarten and first grade at Riverside, where he is excited about implementing a new math program that he and a friend designed. Lamont was an early applicant to Princeton Community Village because it meant manageable housing costs and returning to the town where he grew up. The four boys — Lamont II, Stephan, Tod and Scott — enjoy Village life, and being in Princeton has enabled the two oldest to join the midget football league.

Country Contemporary in the Bedens Brook Area

Just a few minutes from downtown Princeton yet hidden away in a private country setting is a fantastic single level contemporary with a creatively designed floorplan. At one end is a heated large indoor swimming pool with patio and sauna, while at the other is a delightful master suite that can be cordoned off for either long term guests or a separate in-law arrangement. Both the huge flagstone library-study and the family room have their own fireplaces while the kitchen and living room have a view of the pool. There are four or five bedrooms in all and four full baths. By simply renting out one room to a university student who might also cut your grass, you can live in a fantastic contemporary for the same monthly payments as you'd pay in a seventy thousand dollar home. Asking $109,000

Extraordinary Sacrifice Estate for the Price of a House

Here is an opportunity to buy a fine charming five bedroom residence with a lovely mature garden and a 20 x 40 inground pool all for the same price as you would pay for the house alone. Living room with bow window and picture window, spacious kitchen with separate eating area, dining room with chairrail, rustic family room or library with raised hearth and built-in cabinets. If you're looking for a new home near Princeton, come see this exceptional center hall colonial first - you'll save on all the improvements and hard work, and be able to spend your valuable time taking vacations or playing tennis instead of working around the house. Prompt inspection and action invited. Owners anxious to sell! $79,900

Our Newest Williamsburg Cape on the Mountain

In Elm Ridge Park West it would sell for much more but our builder is producing the same fine quality home for thirty thousand dollars less. This four bedroom Cape Cod with an airy master suite downstairs has an exceptional flowing floorplan, two fireplaces, and just the right detailed touches that will make you feel as though you're living in an older established home rather than a new house. See it through the construction phase and move in this fall for only $75,900

Contemporary Multi-level in University Park

Our newest home in Lawrenceville's University Park is convenient to classes and activities at Rider College yet nestled in its own private setting, beautified by towering weeping willows and mature shrubbery all around. Inside, a sweeping cathedral ceiling sets the light and airy contemporary tone which is also carried out in the delightfully open floorplan. The large family room, playroom, and powder room are all well removed from the formal living areas as are the three comfortable generous bedrooms and two full baths upstairs. Call us now to see it before the open house. $65,000

Rustic Rancher in the Montgomery Valley

Split rail fences, green pastures, rolling meadows, red Vermont style barns, are all part of the setting for this rustic new rancher being built just north of Princeton. Inside, is a slate "over" leading to a large living room with picture window overlooking the horses in the pasture, a nest dining room with chairrail, a large country kitchen, a family room with raised brick hearth, three comfortable bedrooms and two full baths. A rustic charmer indeed where life is simple and there's plenty of fresh air and country sunshine. $62,900

A PERFECT HOUSE FOR A FUN-LOVING FAMILY

On a wooded lot with huge willow trees...at the end of a cul-de-sac with no through traffic, five large bedrooms and two and a half baths, PLUS all the other living space kids require...a family room opening to the kitchen dining area...with a big fireplace, many bookcases and a lovely screened porch overlooking the well landscaped yard (no neighbors in view!). A living room, dining room, full basement, two-car garage and utility room round out the spaciousness. But, come see it for yourself...recently painted and really spruced up for the next lucky owner.

Four Candidates for Township Committee Look At The Problems Confronting Their Municipality

Loop Road and Loop Bus, taxes, public housing, bike paths...all were discussed this week by candidates for the two seats on Township Committee in interviews conducted by TOWN TOPICS. Democrat Abbot Low Moffat is running for a second three-year term; his running-mate is Barbara Lependorf. Republican opponents are Josie Hall and Tod Peyton.

"I'd favor building one sector of the Loop: between Snowden and Bertrand," Mr. Moffat says, "but I would NOT favor the Concord to River Road section or the links in the western part of town, between Route 206 and the Great Road, and Johnson Park to Winfield—these are not needed."

"The Loop from Snowden to Bertrand would be an important local road," Mr. Moffat believes. "It's unfair to people on Overbrook not to construct that segment. Overbrook is heavily and unfairly used; it wasn't designed for that kind of traffic."

Mrs. Lependorf declares she is "strongly opposed" to the Loop, and adds that as the mother of small children she sympathizes with residents who bought a house where traffic was light, and now feel threatened.

"I'd like to see what the Planning Board will come up with," she says. A new Circulation Master Plan is due in '77, and Mr. Moffat and others on Committee have promised no action on the Loop until then.

TWO DEMOCRATS: Abbot Low Moffat is running for a second term on Township Committee because he wants to see plans he has started come to fruition. Finance, the Capital Budget and bike paths have been special Moffat areas. Barbara Lependorf, who stepped in when illness forced the withdrawal of Leonard Elz, is a practicing attorney who believes her legal experience would be valuable.

Proof Lacking. "I'm not convinced the Loop Road concept is a good one," Mrs. Hall says. "Spending money to enable one housewife to get from one part of town to the other to deliver children quicker...! A Loop might simply take the Nassau Street problem into the neighborhoods."

Her running-mate, Mr. Peyton, worries that a Loop would make people use Princeton simply as a "pass-through," and he thinks Princeton's traffic problems aren't so bad, compared to those in other areas.

"A certain amount of traffic helps keep the car population down," he says with a smile.

All four candidates favor public transportation. The Republicans believe that subsidizing "a decent transportation system" is better than spending money to build roads. Mr. Peyton regrets simultaneous starting of the Loop Bus and Dial-a-Ride because it didn't give either a proving chance, he believes.

"It's not good to go crashing forward," he adds. "People always feel the Township moves slowly, so Committee has a tendency to move fast when it has the chance."

Decision Essential. Mr. Moffat, who helped design the Loop routes, warns that Princeton can't afford to go on indefinitely, waiting for Mercer Metro to take the buses over. If no progress has been made by budget-time this winter, he thinks, the town may not want to carry on. "We must know if the county will indeed take over; we can't have just pie-in-the-sky."

Mrs. Lependorf wonders whether the town shouldn't buy two small buses. Cheaper, she thinks, and the town itself could decide what the days and hours would be—possibly even opting for Saturdays, Sundays and evenings.

"I favor some form of public

TWO REPUBLICANS: Josie Hall and Tod Peyton hope to be elected to Township Committee this fall. Mr. Peyton believes his experience as a businessman would be important on Committee. Mrs. Hall is concerned about ecology, land use and road construction.

Arrangements Complete for Friday's Masked Ball

SHALL WE DANCE? The elegance of the Regency period is evoked in this set for the McCarter Masked Ball that will be held Friday in Jadwin Gym.

A Regency court—described as "an elegant but simple arrangement of columns, lighted urned trees and an orchestra pavillion"—will provide the set for the McCarter benefit Masked Ball in Jadwin Gymnasium this Friday.

Triangle Club members are building columns and pavillion, the urned trees were removed from the property of a Masked Ball committee member and are being painted white and strung with Italian lights. Dried floral arrangements for the tables will consist of dried hydrangea blossoms and magnolia leaves with ivory candles, interlaced with brown and lime-green ribbon. Cost of candles and ribbon will be defrayed by selling the arrangements after the ball.

Guests of the ball who have not yet arranged for masks may discuss masks with Susie Patton, a member of Triangle, who is creating custom-designed masks for the occasion. She may be reached at 452-7546.

and his orchestra, will be in the center of the "court." The supper, prepared by caterer Peter Vielbig, will be beef Stroganoff, rice pilaff, spinach salad with chopped eggs and bacon, malt rye rolls with sweet butter, grapes Juanita with shortbread wafers, and coffee.

Members of the Masked Ball Honorary Committee who have said they will attend are Wayne Rogers, of the "M.A.S.H." television show, actress Elizabeth Ashley, critic Clive Barnes and Mrs. Gregory Peck.

The Masked Ball is sponsored by the board of McCarter Associates. Mrs. Thomas H. Paine, board chairman, is head of the Masked Ball Committee.

As previously announced, cocktail parties will be given by members of the Committee in their homes prior to the Ball. These groups will then be seated in the same vicinity at Jadwin to continue the festivities begun earlier. Committee members planning parties are: Dr. & Mrs. Myron Bash, Dr. & Mrs. Hein Besselaar, Mr. & Mrs. Henry Bessire, Ms. Barbara Binswanger, Mr. & Mrs. John Borden, Mr. & Mrs. James E. TWO BY SHAFFER
 At Intime. Two plays by Peter Shaffer will open the season for Princeton University's Theatre Intime, which operates out of Murray Theatre on the University campus near the University chapel.

The two Shaffer plays are "The Private Ear" and "The Public Eye," and they will be given next Thursday, Friday and Saturday (Oct. 9-10-11) and the following Thursday, Friday and Saturday, all at 8:30 in Murray Theatre.

"Private Ear" is the story of an introverted music-lover named Tchaik (short for Tchaikowsky) who bumbles through one situation after another in an effort to be debonair as he courts the music-loving "Venus" he has met at a concert.

In "The Public Eye," Shaffer explores some common problems of marriage as a hired detective spies on a very unconventional young wife at the behest of her suspicious accountant husband. When observer and subject wind up watching each other, the play takes a nice turn around the block.

Mitchell Ivers and Katherine Stewart, both members of Theatre Intime's board, are the directors. Peter Shaffer is the young playwright whose "Equus" has been both a London and New York hit. He is the author of "Five Finger Exercise" and "Royal Hunt of the Sun."

"KING OF REGGAE"
Jimmy Cliff, the Jamaican reggae artist, will perform in Alexander Hall (on the Princeton University campus) on Wednesday, October 15, at 8 p.m., and tickets are now on sale at McCarter Theatre's box-office.

Jamaican reggae is a form of Jamaican rock 'n' roll, highly syncopated, with elements of calypso, and rhythm and blues. It has been described as "part soul, part social protest, and all high spirits." The Simon and Garfunkel hit, "Cecilia" was one of the first popularizations of reggae in this country.

Jimmy Cliff, who became famous in the mid-1960s, stars in the film "The Harder They Come," in which he plays a young country boy who travels to Kingston, Jamaica, to seek his fortune and winds up a recording star. The film will be shown December 2 at McCarter.

RENT DUE?
Help Players Pay. Take a dance lesson from Joan Morton Lucas, listen to Roo Brown sing, play some innocent and legal poker (or blackjack), sip speakeasy hootch ... all at the 1930-style "Rent Party" planned by Princeton Community Players as a way to help meet the rent they pay on the theatre at 171 Broadmead.

Appropriately enough, the Rent Party will be held right there, at 171. Cover charge for the evening is $2, and there will be plenty of food and a cash bar.

Performers will be the Witherspooners singing group, Cynthia Gooding and her folk guitar, Liz Fillo, Roo

Brown, Dave Dingle on piano, Joan Lucas doing the Castle Walk, the Barbershop Quartet and others. "The Event of the Season," the Players say.

READ "HOT L"
With Players. "The Hot L Baltimore," Lanford Wilson's play, is the first in a series of plays to be read informally in the Green Room of the Players' theatre, 171 Broadmead.

The Players have scheduled the reading for Wednesday, October 8, at 8. Everyone is invited, and participants are asked to bring a quarter for the pot, to cover the cost of refreshments and scripts.

Readings are intended to provide people with a chance to read and listen to readings of plays; the sessions are not formal auditions. Play readings will be held on alternate Wednesday evenings, and the one after "The Hot L" will be "Night Watch," on October 22.

Others in the series will be "The Entertainer," "Small Craft Warnings," "The Misanthrope," "Any Wednesday" and "Misalliance." Dates will be announced.

...FOR KIDS
Live and Film. Eight events, "Specially for Kids," have been planned by McCarter Theatre in a new Saturday subscription series. Ask the box-office (921-8700) for details.

"Specially for Kids" will open Saturday, November 1, with two performances by the Vagabond Marionettes. They will present their version of "Aladdin" at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

After that opener, the series will continue with the return of the Paper Bag Players—often called New York's finest children's theatre group—and the magician Milbourne Christopher. (He's the author of more than 20 works on magic, and is the Official Biographer of Harry Houdini.)

Five films will be shown in the "Specially for Kids" series. On Saturday, November 22, Walt Disney's animated version of "Alice in Wonderland" will start things off. Later in the season, there will be "Where the Lilies Bloom"—a tale of four orphan children struggling to remain a family in the Blue Ridge Mountains of North Carolina; Richard Lester's "The Three Musketeers" and the Princeton premiere of "Huckleberry Finn," from 1974. This is the version with Jeff East as Huck and Paul Winfield as Jim.

Finally, there will be "Conrack," with Jon Voight as the idealistic teacher in a classroom of black grade-school pupils on an island off the coast of South Carolina.

All five films will have two showings: 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

AUDITIONS SCHEDULED
For Teen Dance Workshop.
Auditions for the Dance Co-op Teen Workshop will be held Saturday at 11:30 in the studios in the Parish House of Witherspoon Presbyterian Church on Quarry Street. Designed for those who have had some previous dance training, the Teen Workshop will be held in two sections, dance technique and dance composition. Students chosen for it must be currently enrolled in a technique class of their own choosing.

Auditions for the performing branch of the Dance Co-op will be held on Saturday, October 11, at 2 in the studio. Vera Schwartz, artistic director, will direct the audition. For further information, call 924-9390.

Dancer Wins Audition
Heidi Bunting, faculty and board of directors member of The Dance Co-op, has been invited to join the Dan Wagoner Dance Company in New York. She was invited to audition for the group and was selected from among six dancers after a six-week trial period.

Because the Dan Wagoner Company will be on its first tour of the year until this Sunday, Ms. Bunting has not been able to participate in the Open Class Week, when Dance Co-op classes may be taken without charge. Regular classes begin next Monday, and she will teach three each week.

A graduate in dance from the University of Oregon, Ms. Bunting has performed with the Banff Festival Ballet, with Ballet West and with several small companies in New York. She was also a member of the ballet and modern dance companies at the University of Oregon.

Gone With The Wind: More than three hours of Scarlet O'Hara and Rhett Butler and still probably the champ in the eyes of those 30 and older. If you haven't seen this largely sympathetic view of the South during the Civil War go and see how a great film could be made without nude scenes and profanity. Clark Gable at his zenith. Also fine portrayal by Leslie Howard.

PRINCE
The Way We Were. It's back to 40's romance in this sudser with Robert Redford and Barbra Streisand as a singularly mismatched couple eventually torn apart by repercussions from the Hollywood blacklist.

On a college campus where they meet Streisand is a joiner and demonstrator for radical causes. He is an athletic superstar and All-American boy. Their different backgrounds supply all the necessary conflicts for their rather improbable love story. He wants comfort; she wants truth. The result is a juicy fight and even juicier make-up love scene every ten minutes—which is all anyone ever got from a 40's romance.

A re-release.

MUSIC

In Princeton

CONCERT SUNDAY
On New Harpsichord. All Saints' Church on Van Dyke Road will be the scene of the inauguration of Princeton's newest concert harpsichord. Built by Christopher Bannister of Hopewell, the single manual instrument will be introduced Sunday night at 8.

The program of chamber music, first in the Trinity-All Saints Concert Series, will include works by Sweelinck, Purcell, Handel and Bach and is designed to show the versatility of the instrument. David Agler, Director of Music at All Saints', will be the harpsichordist and joining him will be Lois Lavery and Susan Robinson, sopranos; Elizabeth Lamb, cellist; and James Walker, flutist. The public is welcome and there will be no admission charge.

Mr. Bannister based his tonal design for the All Saints' harpsichord on an 18th century antique instrument by J.A. Hass of Hamburg. As described by Mr. Bannister, its disposition is "2x8", 1x4", Buff Stop, pedal controls, length: 244 centimeters." It encompasses 63 notes and is encased in true Honduras Mahogany.

Elizabeth Lamb is first cellist of the Trenton Symphony. Lois Lavery and Susan Robinson are Members of the faculty of Westminster Choir College and sing in the All Saints' Choir. James Walker has been for the last few years the principal flutist in the Spoleto Festival Orchestra. Davis Agler, in addition to his role as organist and choir director at All Saints', is co-Music Director of the Spoleto Festival.

The Trinity-All Saints' Concerts Committee, under the co-chairmanship of Betty Braxton Preston and William Flemer, III, will again present a series of choral and instrumental concerts during the 1975-76 season.

CHILDREN INVITED

To Borge Rehearsal. Dr. Matteo Giammario, conductor of the Mercer County Symphonic Orchestra which will perform in a benefit concert for the orchestra on Friday at 8:30 in the Kirby Arts Center, Lawrenceville School, has issued an invitation to all 7-12 grade students in the area to attend the afternoon rehearsal at 3:30. Admission at the door, $1.50.

The program will offer a blend of music and comedy with guest conductor, Victor Borge. Tickets for the evening performance may be obtained from the Administration Office at the School and at the box office before the concert.

SOPRANO IN CONCERT

At Choir College. Soprano Judith Nicosia, Assistant Professor of Theory and Voice at Westminster Choir College, will present the third concert in the college's Fiftieth Anniversary Faculty Recital Series on Monday, October 13, at 8 in the campus Playhouse. She will be accompanied by Miss Shann Jacobsen in a program of songs by Messiaen, Purcell, Rodrigo and Rachmaninoff.

Miss Nicosia has performed leading roles with the Princeton University Opera Theatre and the Middlesex Opera Company, and has appeared in concert with the Performer's Committee of New York City. This past summer, as a recipient of her third consecutive vocal fellowship at Tanglewood, she worked with the famous French composer Oliver Messiaen on a concert of his works, and these songs will be part of her program.

Miss Jacobsen is a native of Utah, now residing in Boston. She has accompanied recitals at the Berkshire Music Festival at Tanglewood, been an opera coach and accompanist for the Santa Fe Opera Company, the Merola Program of the San Francisco Opera, the Boston University Workshop, and has been principal coach for the New England Conservatory Opera Theater and Workshop.

Further information on concerts during the Fiftieth Anniversary year of Westminster may be obtained by writing to the College or calling 921-7100 or 921-3202.

CONCERT SUNDAY

Cellist, Pianist to Be Heard. The Friends of Music at Princeton will present Edwin Duval, cellist, with Portia Sonnenfeld, pianist, in a concert on Sunday at 3 at Woolworth Center on the University campus. The concert is free and open to the public.

Edwin Duval has performed as soloist on the West Coast and in France. He has toured with an orchestra in England and Wales and has played under Michael Tilson Thomas, Sander Salgo and Lukas Foss. He is currently Assistant Professor of Romance

BAZAAR TO OPEN

At State Museum. A special preview sale and reception to open the annual Folk Art Bazaar at the New Jersey State Museum will be held in Trenton on Friday from 6 to 11 p.m. Sponsored by the Friends of the Museum, the bazaar has, for the past two years, been a successful fund-raising event for both the Museum and shoppers.

For the opening night reception the second floor of the Museum's main building at 205 West State Street in Trenton takes on an atmosphere of a near Eastern marketplace. No admission will be charged, and a cash bar and refreshments will be available to Friday evening shoppers. Mrs. Burton Peskin of Princeton, Friends' vice-president for membership services, is chairman of the event.

Assemblers of the bazaar wares are Mrs. Marion Kelleher of Princeton and Mrs. Pearl Seligman of Roosevelt. Inspired by a love of folk art objects, they have travelled to foreign countries and to port cities to gather thousands of handicrafts from more than 40 countries.

Some of the items are antiques, Mrs. Seligman notes, but even the newer objects are hand-made and based on the traditions of the villages and tribes where they are created. Outstanding collections of basketry, tribal sculpture, African textiles, jewelry and rugs will be featured, along with apparel, toys, pictures, batiks, kites, tribal masks and dozens of other items. Prices start at $1 for items both ornamental and useful.

The bazaar will continue through October 19 at the Museum. Except for Friday, shopping hours are the same as Museum hours: 10 to 4 on weekdays and 1 to 5 on Saturday and Sunday. For further information, call the Friends' office, 394-5310, at the Museum.

OPENINGS AVAILABLE

In Art Association Classes. A limited number of openings exist in fall art classes at the Princeton Art Association. The eight-week session has just begun at the studios at Etl Farm on Rosedale Road.

Registration can be accepted by phone for Zoltan Buki's life drawing class which starts Thursday evening, and for Jim Colavita's course in Contemporary Sculpture, which meets for the first time Friday evening. Mr. Buki's 7-10 p.m. course will consider the figure in space, and in quick sketches and sustained studies, using a model, students will be taught sional form to a two-dimensional surface.

Curator of Fine Arts at the New Jersey State Museum, Mr. Buki has taught at the University of South West Louisiana and the Layton School of Art, and he was chairman of the Art Department at Humboldt State College in California. A graduate of the Academia di Belle Arti in Rome and the Art Institute of Chicago, he holds degrees in Fine Arts from Wayne State and Tulane Universities.

Mr. Colavita's approach to sculpture emphasizes natural forms. Texture, line, movement and composition will be explored, in materials such as plaster, wood, stone and polyester resin. The class meets from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Fridays.

Known for his in novative ceramic sculptures, Mr. Colavita is on the faculty of Trenton State College. A graduate of the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, he studied with Robert Barnes and Ilse Johnson.

Registration is also open for Sunday morning's 9:30 - 12:30 life workshop, for independent sketching or painting from a nude model, with no formal instruction. Information about enrolling in these classes may be obtained by calling the PAA office at 921-9173.

EXHIBIT SUNDAY

At Medical Center. Elaine Miller, photographer, will have an exhibit Sunday from 1:30 to 3 in the lobby of The Medical Center at Princeton.

The exhibit will include photographs of interest to the Princeton community. Included will be a sampling of Ms. Miller's portraits of physicians and their families. Refreshments will be served and the public is welcome.

Following the exhibit, a representative sampling of Ms. Miller's work will be displayed in The Medical Center's Coffee Shop.

PAINTINGS ON VIEW

At Princeton Day School. Paintings and other works by Guy Ciarcia of 104 Pennington-Rocky Hill Road, Hopewell, are on display at Princeton Day School through October 14. A ten-year resident of Mercer County, Mr. Ciarcia teaches in the Trenton public schools.

He holds a BFA from the Pratt Institute, has studied at the Academia de Belle Arti in Florence, Italy, and is completing his MA at New York University. Mr. Ciarcia describes his work as "the exploration and inter-relationship of textures deriving color mostly from ethnic sources."

LIFE DRAWING OFFERED

Tuesday Evenings In Cranbury. The Art Room, co-sponsored by Flatroc, a non-profit corporation, to facilitate pursuit of competence, and Cranbury Landmarks, Inc. will again offer open studio sessions for life drawing at the Old Cranbury School, 23 North Main Street.

Beginning October 14 and running for ten consecutive Tuesdays from 8-10, the sessions are for artists and students who wish to practice drawing skills and work in the company of others in a well equipped studio. A model will be available at each session.

Herbert Steinberg will attend five of the ten sessions as class monitor, available to participants wanting to review their drawings. Mr. Steinberg studied two years under Moses Soyer and three years at Tyler Art School, Temple University. He received his BA from Adelphi College and MA from Kent State University. He has won numerous awards and has exhibited widely at galleries and other institutions, such as the Pennsylvania Academy, the Brooklyn Museum, the Butler Institute of American Art and the National Arts Club, New York.

Interested individuals may sign up for all ten weeks at $35 or may drop in at $4.50 per night. For further information, contact Charles C. McCracken, Flatroc, Inc. Coordinator Arts-Media Project, Cranbury, or phone 655-3690.

The Princeton High School Parent-Teacher Organization will hold a Back-to-School Night Monday at 8 when parents are asked to report to their student's home group to receive the evening's schedule. The student's Monday schedule will be followed, with each period lasting ten minutes.

During an unassigned period, parents may visit the cafeteria for refreshments, the Media Center in the library or the guidance counselors in their offices. Resource centers will be open for foreign languages in room 220, math/science in room 240 and the computer center in room 241.

The Friday Club of the YWCA will have its first meeting of the fall season Friday, at 12:30, at the Public Library. The Friends of the Library will be host for the occasion, and the Library Staff will present a program during the afternoon.

All older women in the community are invited, and those who need rides are asked to telephone the YWCA, 924-4825, before 11 the day of the meeting.

The West Windsor Garden Club will hear John L. Obal at its meeting Monday, at 7:45 at the Dutch Neck School. Mr. Obal, landscape consultant and proprietor of the Obal Garden Market, Alexander Road, will discuss "Fall Planting for Spring Blooms."

The club will again make and sell various dried flower gift items at the Lions Club Auction October 25 at the Dey Farm.

The Business and Professional Women's Club will hold a Wine and Cheese Party for members and prospective members on Sunday from 3 to 5 at the home of Mrs. Teddie Marciniak, 516 Kingston Road.

Mrs. Marciniak and Mrs. Jane Tobin are co-chairmen. Members of their committee are Mesdames Betty Kaminski, Barbara Macauley, Carol O'Brien, Meg Schenk and Jean Wiggs. Employed women in the area who may be interested in joining the club may call Miss A. Myrtle Hensor, 924-4368.

Lawrence D. Kelsey, a member of Amnesty International, will be the speaker at the opening meeting of the second quarter century of the Lawrenceville Men's Breakfast Club on Sunday, at 8:15 in The Dining Center of The Lawrenceville School. Reservations at $2.50 must be made no later than 10 a.m. Friday by calling 896-0244 or 896-1212.

Mr. Kelsey will discuss the case of Simas I. Kudirka, the Lithuanian Radio Operator who sought political asylum aboard the U.S. Coast Guard Cutter "Vigilant" in 1970, was forcibly returned to the Soviet vessel and was sentenced to 10 years penal servitude in the Soviet Union.

The Princeton-Trenton Mount Holyoke Club will host a meeting Monday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. George F. Thomas, 21 Elm Road at which Miss Maddy Franchi, Mount Holyoke '75, will show a film strip and speak to prospective students. Further information may be had from the alumna representative for school contacts, Mrs. Reid White, 924-6244.

The Princeton Area Alpha Chi Omega Alumnae Club will hold a Founder's Day Luncheon Saturday, at 12:30, at the Nassau Club, 6 Mercer Street. The club, established here in January 1974, meets the first Monday evening of the month for business and social events. Mrs. Mimi Westin, 799-2591, is president.

The Montgomery Woman's Club will meet Thursday at 8:15 in the Berrien Room of the Rocky Hill branch of the First National Bank of Central New Jersey.

Linda Long of Belle Mead and Pat Varvel of 42 Sturges Way, will give a slide presentation on their book, "Away for a Day," trips to places of recreational, educational, historical and industrial interest within 50 miles of Princeton. Hostesses will be Mesdames Joseph Carey, Salvatore Casamento, Alvin Darvin, Ron D'Avanzo, William Dodge and J. K. Dorey, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Fred LiCausi.

New members and guests will be treated to a tea Sunday from 2-4 at the home of membership chairman Mrs. Gordon McKiernan, Marian Drive, Belle Mead. Assisting her will be Mesdames Robert Pinlo, Fred Phillis, Laurence May, Al Kamperman, Robert Esposito, James Koch, John Petrik and William Ludt.

NEW STORE OPENS
Fine Collections for Sale.
Since he was 11 years of age, David Russell has in his words, "never hesitated to buy anything." For some years now he has been able to turn this personal enjoyment of collecting into a business of searching out fine items for private clients.
Now, however he has expanded one step further by opening three stores — one here in Princeton and the others in Burlington and Collingswood — to display and sell his many collections.

He says, "D.J. Russell and Associates has a big advantage because with my contacts all over the world I can handle anything. A client is not limited to what is in one of the stores. I can get just about anything anyone wants."
In the art area there are signed works by Dali, Rockwell and Caldwell; original oil paintings; and a raft of contemporary graphics, framed and ready for hanging at $125. Particularly unusual is a framed Peter Max original transparency from the Beatles' movie "The Yellow Submarine," $600.

Coins A Specialty. Although

ART, COINS AND ANTIQUES: At Princeton's newest store, D.J. Russell & Associates, Mr. Russell specializes in fine collectibles of all kinds, particularly art, coins and antiques. With him is a handsome carved wooden elephant that can be used as a seat.

Mr. Russell has many broad collections, his specialty is coins. Currently he has an unusual large cent presentation coin proofed on one side that is valued at $10,000, and a Philippine gold coin that the Philippine museum is interested in.
Beginner numismatists needn't be scared off, however, because D.J. Russell also has many coins priced under $10, and in these inflationary days it is reassuring to see that many of them have grown in value. For instance, an uncirculated 1940-D nickel now costs $1.50.

Antiques are another part of this business, and we were particularly enchanted with a three panel screen painted with nine romantic pastoral 18th century scenes. It is one of a pair which cost $5500 together or $3000 individually.
Other interesting pieces include an English grandfather clock circa 1850, and a fully carved teak mirror from the Chinese pavilion at the 1939 World's Fair.

As Mr. Russell says, he will buy most anything, and as a result his collections are immense and varied. We saw several bronzes, a white metal elephant, opal rings set in sterling silver, autographs of early Spanish Kings, and in the window an imposing fiberglass reproduction of a Civil War soldier.

The Princeton store, operated by associate Joseph Sifkovitz, also offers custom framing. There is a large selection of moldings which are offered at discount prices and your picture is promised to be framed in a week.
D.J. Russell and Assoc., 195 Nassau Street, is open Tuesday through Saturday from 11 to 5.

NEW IN HOPEWELL

A Children's Shop. After years of working in almost every area of the women's retail field (from bookkeeping to designing), Mrs. Julia Geiger decided the time had come to open her own shop. However, rather than continue in the women's field, she has taken her broad knowledge and applied it to children's clothing.

The result is Hopewell's newest store — Julianna's Children's Shop — owned by Mrs. Geiger and her daughter, Mrs. Margaret Cohen. They both have worked hard seeking out quality clothing — the kind that lasts through more than one season — for boys and girls from infancy to size 14.

Even the newborn will find something here. There are darling "take-me-home" sets for both sexes. The girl's is a long white dress with a tiny rosebud print, pink piping, a matching hat and a ruffled attached slip, $9.50. The boy's is a pale blue shortall with white collar and cuffs and again a matching hat, $8.

As the child grows there is a wide choice of stretch suits and creepers by Baby Gro. One of the cutest of which is a red sweatsuit complete with a all have elastic waistbands so they fit most any shape.

This company also makes some lovely sweaters such as a red, blue, pink or green one with a white heart and stripe design on the front. There are also some boys' cardigans with contrasting banding and soccer stripes on the sleeves, all $4.50.

Little and big girls can both wear the Danskin designs. There is a Snoopy jumper, a blue wrap jumper with bib of Belle Mead; August 30, at the home of the bride's parents. They are living in Belle Mead. This dress looks well alone or when worn with a bright yellow turtleneck for a layered look. The shirts cost about $7 and the dresses range from $10.50 to $14.75.

For sizes 7 to 14 Russ Girl makes knit skirts or slacks ($9 and $12) in rust, navy or green that can be worn with a wide choice of turtlenecks, t-shirts or blouses. Then for the smaller girls there is a pale green corduroy skirt (that comes with its own soft multi-colored striped t-shirt, $6.50 and $9).

A favorite with the Hopewell girls are the bra and undershirt sets. They come in a pink, blue or yellow stretch knit and each has a matching bikini. Priced at $2.25 and $2.50, they are relatively inexpensive -- just right for party gifts.

Julianna's has a great line of nightgowns and pajamas by Young Debs with an incredible 365 day guarantee. One with a cute print of small scenes representing the days of the week comes with attached feet, and we have yet to see one of these last a season. They are $7.50 and seem well worth trying.

For Boys. The boys can choose from pants by Mark of 5th Avenue, McGregor or Danskin, $7.50 to about $12. The Mark jeans come in a wonderfully soft fabric that just has to be comfortable and the Wonderknit shirts have all been specially dyed to coordinate. According to the salesman these shirts which start at $3.50 come with an unconditional guarantee. You can boil, scrub or do anything to them without damage.

Wonderknit also makes a football jersey in several colors; and for the 4 to 6x group there is Snoopy carrying a football on a navy or green shirt to match the Danskin pants.

Boys will also find pajamas, bathrobes, and winter jackets here. Most of the jackets are by Tidykins and beautifully made. We saw a denim one with a sheepskin-type pile lining, a navy with white stripes on the cuffs and a double-breasted red plaid snowsuit, $38 to $44.

Julianna's, which is having a drawing for $50 worth of merchandise as part of its opening celebration, is located at 33 West Broad Street in Hopewell. Hours are 9-6, Monday through Saturday.

transportation, but whether this is best, is questionable," is her view.

Bike paths are considerably more controversial, and candidates have found that citizens, when they answer the door-bell after the candidates ring, are quite vocal about bike paths.

"Why build more when kids aren't using them?" That's the question I hear," Mrs. Hall reports.

Mrs. Lependorf questions bike paths on the basis of use, also. The safety element in bike paths is important, she believes.

A Matter of Habit. Mr. Moffat, who launched the bike-path idea, firmly believes the paths are linked to overall safety. He wants to reduce the schools' "hazardous routes" by building bike paths on these roads, and he thinks you can't make people ride the paths until they get used to them.

Mr. Moffat smiles at last week's Republican ad in TOWN TOPICS which supported the Loop Bus, bike paths and Crosstown '62 transportation for the elderly. All were projects he either initiated or helped develop.

On finances, Mr. Peyton cites his small-business experience as valuable to a governing body. Things like studies, expanded facilities, new equipment are "terribly tempting," he agrees, but he adds,

"You can find an argument in favor of any of these, but how much can you commit the Township citizen to?"

Mr. Moffat worries about the $45,000 the state has cut from the Township in sales-tax money, and an unexpected increase in operating buses over the schools' "hazardous routes." He also wants better programming for the future in the Capital Budget.

"I'm a fiscal conservative," declares Mrs. Lependorf. "Big projects must be scrutinized very carefully, both for need and public response."

Ecology vs. Housing. Ecology is important to Mrs. Hall, and she says she'd have voted "no" on the Yedlin project on environmental grounds. "But we must have more lower-income housing. It should be built where the land can take it, and if it's in my back yard, I won't yell. In fact, my back yard is better than many places."

Mr. Peyton has found middle-income people protesting they can't afford more taxes to support middle-income housing.

"I ran into strong feeling against the Yedlin project in the Mt. Lucas area," Mrs. Lependorf reports, "and I empathize with the point of view. I would raise questions about density and ecology. I'd favor re-examining the number of units, although nobody has come up with a figure and I wouldn't want to quote one. A way to make it palatable to the neighborhood should be sought if possible."

Mr. Moffat, due to hear two appeals on the Yedlin case next Monday as a Committee member, declined to comment.

Languages and Literature at Princeton.

Portia Sonnenfeld, a graduate of Oberlin, has studied both piano and cello. She has conducted numerous workshops and classes in chamber music and theory and has performed on the East Coast, in England, and on television. Mrs. Sonnenfeld is the wife of Albert Sonnenfeld, Professor of Romance Languages and Literature at Princeton.

NEW MEMBERS SOUGHT By Barbershop Society. Men who like to sing in the shower, or at parties, are invited to apply for membership in the Princeton Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, at the Lawrence Shopping Center on Saturday, between 1 and 4.

The Garden Statesmen Chorus of the Chapter will sing songs in Barbershop style, and men who would like to join them will be auditioned to determine their vocal range and musical memory. The auditions will be followed by refreshments.

The Garden Statesmen Chorus performs in public at functions of civic, fraternal, religious, commercial and educational organizations. Formal musical education is not required. The only requirement is the ability to carry a tune and a commitment to attend regular weekly meetings to learn new songs and rehearse old ones so as to be able to sing with the chorus when it performs in public.

MEETING TUESDAY

For Recorder Society. The Princeton Recorder Society will hold its first meeting of the season on Tuesday at 8 in the basement of All Saints'

Church, Van Dyke Road. Music director Jennifer Lehmann will lead a setting of psalm 137 by Victoria, followed by small group-playing.

All recorder players, including beginners, are welcome. For further information, call the president, Sylvia Fontijn, at 921-8055.

BOOK FAIR SCHEDULED Monmouth Junction, all on Opens Monday at PDS, September 23.

Appearances by two Princeton authors will highlight the annual Princeton Day School Book Fair, to be held next week, Monday through Friday, at the school.

Mrs. William F. Haynes, co-author of "Strength, Speed and Stamina — Conditioning for Tennis," will talk with upper school athletes about the theories contained in her new book, written with Eve Kraft and John Conroy. The book has received endorsement by the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association.

For younger readers, Keith Robertson, author of "Myrtle the Turtle" and the Henry Reed series, will speak to lower and middle school students. Myrtle's adventures take place on the Princeton University Campus.

The Book Fair, directed this year by Mrs. J.R. McAllister Borie and Mrs. Peter E.B. Erdman, benefits the school's two libraries.

DELAWARE TRIP SLATED

By Historical Society. A variety of tours have been planned for the fall for the Historical Society of Princeton by Mrs. Peter Groff, author of "New Jersey's Historic Houses." The first trip will be along the Delaware River on Saturday, October 11, and will include Peter's Valley, a craft village, where demonstrations of pottery making, weaving, ceramics and woodworking may be seen.

In the afternoon, the National Park Service restoration of the mid-19th Century village of Millbrook will be explored. The bus will leave at 9 from the Acme end of the Princeton Shopping Center and return about 5:30.

The cost of the trip is $17.50 for Society members and $20 for non-members and includes transportation, admissions, luncheon and a $5 tax deductible donation to the Society. Reservations close October 7. Call 921-6748, or mail checks to the Historical Society of Princeton, 158 Nassau Street.

Here's an oddity...A man in football once played for one pro team, and at the same time, in the same season, coached another pro team!...This little-known fact happened when place-kicker Ben Agajanian played for San Diego on Sundays when San Diego was in the American Football League -- and during the week he coached place-kickers for Green Bay in the National Football League!...As far as known, that's the only time a player ever worked for two different pro teams at the same time.

Oddly enough, no pitcher has been able to pitch a complete game in any World Series since 1971...In all World Series games in 1972, '73 and '74, no pitcher for either side has gone the route...Last man to hurl a complete World Series game was Steve Blass for the Pirates in the 7th game of the 1971 Series.

Only three players in the history of the National Football League have ever scored over 100 touchdowns in their careers...Can you guess who are the only three players to have ever done it?...They are Don Hutson, Jim Brown and Lenny Moore.

Superlative Defensive Play Gives Princeton Win Over Rutgers and Major Role in Ivy Race

Princeton University's football team, coming off its best opening-day performance in nearly a decade, will begin its run for the Ivy League title Saturday at Baker Field, New York, against Columbia. Because the Tigers this season are well established in the basic departments of the game, and their hosts are in considerable difficulty in most of them, the final score is not expected to be close.

While Princeton defeated Rutgers twice in the last five years before edging the Scarlet Saturday, 10 to 7, its triumphs in 1970 and '72 were not achieved against good teams from New Brunswick, nor did the Tigers themselves fare particularly well in those seasons. This time, they outplayed (astonishingly so in the second half) a very impressive opponent, giving every indication that on a basis of their ability in their opening game, they should be at least an even bet against every team remaining on their schedule.

SPORTS

Because it has always played at least one game, and occasionally two before coming to Palmer Stadium, the Scarlet almost invariably dominates the opening half--even when the Tigers finally win. Last week's contest was no exception, and Princeton needed a bit of good fortune to leave the field at the intermission trailing no worse than 7-3.

After rolling 71 yards in 11 plays for their touchdown as early as 9:25 of the first quarter, the visitors had another cancelled just four plays later by a holding penalty and later in the same half missed a pair of field goals. One was a difficult 40-yard shot, but the other was only 25 yards away and the missed opportunity eventually cost the losers the ball game.

Three for Morrison, Rutgers' fine defensive line closed down on the Tigers' running game and pressured Ron Beible's passing at the outset, and Princeton was never deeper than four yards across midfield in the opening period. As the second quarter began, Princeton moved from its own 28 to a third and two on the Scarlet 15 but Art Walker was held short of first down and Scotty Morrison booted a 30-yard field goal. Not only was the ball squarely through the middle but it would have cleared from at least a dozen yards farther out.

Recovery of a fumble by Aaron Satterthwaite, the day's best end on defense despite the presence of All-East Nate Toran in the Rutgers lineup, gave Princeton a fine chance to take the lead when it put the ball in play on the visitors' 18. From a first on the seven, however, four sallies straight ahead yielded a slim foot less than the necessary distance. The damp footing took away the sweep, and Beible preferred not to pass into the stacked defense.

Before the half ended, the Princeton defense prevented a second Rutgers TD when it halted a drive that began at midfield and reached the 8. On fourth down, Bradley's field goal attempt was wide to the left, and the Tigers were very much in the game after a scant 30 minutes of football in 1975.

The defense that was to dominate the second half gave the offense the ball soon after play resumed, the Tigers taking over after a Rutgers punt on the Princeton 31. Beible's accurate passing sparked the 69-yard drive: 55 of the yards gained were credited to his aeriels--five to wide receiver Neil Chamberlain and two to split end Dan Fournier. Both contributed spectacular receptions.

MAN WITH A PROBLEM: Rutgers quarterback Matt Allison (10) failed to complete a single pass in the second half Saturday as Tigers held Scarlet to just 45 yards rushing. Tiger tackle Steve Fletcher (70) was in on this one as he and the rest of defensive unit played major role in 10-7 victory. (Bob Matthews photo)

Tigers Take the Lead. As the goal line neared, it seemed possible that Rutgers' fine line

On Saturday, November 15, 1975, the annual Yale/Princeton Football Game will be held in Palmer Stadium in Princeton. In honor of the game, First Jersey Savings is holding a Guess the Score Contest.

To enter, simply pick what you believe will be the final score of the Yale/Princeton Football Game, complete the entry blank below and either mail or bring to First Jersey Savings, Princeton Shopping Center, Harrison Street, Princeton, New Jersey 08540. Entry blanks may also be obtained at First Jersey Savings Princeton Office.

Anyone can enter... have fun... win prizes. Submit your entry today!

Official Contest Rules

1. Entries should be submitted by filling out an entry blank in such a way as to be easily read, and should include name and address of entrant. The judges' interpretation of handwritten scores will be final in the case of a submission which cannot be easily read.
2. In the case of duplicate entries of winning scores, the entry with the earliest postmark will be declared the winner. Entries personally delivered to First Jersey Savings will be considered postmarked on the date of such deliveries.
3. In the event of duplicate winning entries with the same postmark, the winner will be determined in a random drawing.
4. Prizes are non-transferable and non-redeemable for cash. Only one prize to a family and no substitutes for prizes are offered. The odds of winning will be determined by the number of correct entries received. All prizes will be awarded.
5. The last date for contest entry is Friday, November 14, 1975. Entries postmarked or personally delivered after that date will not qualify for the contest.
6. Contestants are not required to be First Jersey Savings customers to enter or win. Whether or not one has an account will have no effect on his or her chances of winning.
7. Employees and families of First Jersey Savings and its advertising agency are prohibited from entering the contest. Entrants must be of legal age in order to enter.
8. Winners will be notified and names published in the newspaper within two weeks of end of contest. Anyone desiring a list of winners must send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to First Jersey Savings, 392 Main Street, Wyckoff, New Jersey 07481. Please do not send entries to this address.

might hold again, but this time Beible sent Chamberlain wide on a one-on-one situation that was good for a five-yard gain to the two. Sophomore Bobby Isom hit left tackle for one and Beible's sneak took the ball across the final chalk mark. Morrison's accurate p.a.t. proved to be the final point of the day.

In the 20 minutes of action that remained, Princeton came much closer to scoring than did the losers. It took a highly-questionable ball placement by the field judge to stop the Tigers early in the fourth quarter, when fullback Bob Reid's forward motion in spinning appeared to have earned a first down on the Rutgers' 9. The visitors got the ball, and had it on three different occasions as the clock ran out but never got beyond their own 29-yard line.

Second-Half Statistics
	R.	P.
First Downs	2	14
Rushing Yardage	45	140
Passing Yardage	0	90
Passes Completed 0-5	9-13
Total Offense	45	230

In the entire second half, Princeton's take-charge defense shut down so completely on the losers that they never ran a play inside the Tigers' 43-yard line, and put only four in motion across midfield. It was in all probability as strong a defensive showing against a good team as the Orange and Black has made since it last won a share of the Ivy title in 1969.

Beible's 13-for-21 Passing Performance Gives Him 2 Princeton Career Records

When Ron Beible came out of the Rutgers game Saturday about 90 seconds before it ended, he had lost memory from a hard blow on the head during the second half, and had to be told what the final score was. The temporary case of retrograde amnesia had no effect on his play: he not only scored the winning touchdown on a one-yard sneak but put his name in the record book in two categories ahead of the late Dave Allerdice and All-American Dick Kazmaier.

The 21 passes Beible threw raised his career total to 369 -- 18 more than Allerdice had attempted between 1938 and 1940. The Tiger senior's 13 completions against Rutgers raised his total to 183 -- 11 more than Kaz had thrown during his career from 1949-51.

Beible's 135 yards in the first game of his final season brought his total to 2,294, still 198 short of Allerdice's 2,492. Kazmaier finished with 2,404. Unless rain curtails his passing, Beible should top Allerdice's total yardage in the third game of the season against Cornell at Ithaca.

Kazmaier, of course, remains pre-eminent in the two most important categories. Thirty-five of his passes went for touchdowns (compared to 22 for Allerdice and 8 for Beible), and his total yardage gained running and passing is still almost double that of Beible's, whose rushing total is virtually non-existent. There is, of course, a vast difference between the offensive assignments of the current T quarterback and the old single wing tailback at Princeton -- the latter running or passing on a majority of the plays, the quarterback running almost solely when he finds his receivers covered.

While the Tiger offense was able to post only 10 points on the board, it had a number of standouts, starting with Beible. Ranking high among them was Chamberlain with his six receptions for 65 yards and the promise that he is likely to get the best of almost any defender assigned to play him one-on-one.

Four Backs Alternated. For the first time in more than a decade, the Tigers are shuttling four running backs in and out of action, leaving all of them unusually fresh as the game progresses. All four had fine days: Reid, the workhorse, 20 carries for 66 yards; Art Walker, a fine 5.7 average with 63 yards in 11 carries; Mike Carter, a 4.0 average in 9; and sophomore Bobby Isom with the day's longest run (27 yards) and a 4.1 average.

The four are not quite interchangeable, but Reid and Walker, who are both fullbacks, started the game. All four have good broken field ability, and opponents which lack Rutgers' strength up front are in for trouble.

Columbia Has Little. A year ago, Columbia's freshmen walloped Princeton's Class of '78, 30 to 13, largely on the fine passing of quarterback Kevin Burns. A strong bet to take the starting role away from co-captain Mike Delaney, Burns broke his collar bone in pre-season practice and is out for the season.

Without him, the Lions have little hope of winning their first Ivy game in two years. Last season's porous defense, which yielded an average of four touchdowns a game, does not figure to be much improved, and the offense must do without Mike Telep, an All-East tight end, who graduated. Even Rudy Gisolfi, who booted a pair of field goals to keep the Lions close

QUICK LOOK AT COLUMBIA

OFFENSE: Sophomore running back Kirk Combs and wide receiver Bob Watson best bets, but Lions have little bite.

DEFENSE: Lacks personnel to handle team of Princeton's size and ability.

CHIEF THREAT: Eagerness to trim Tigers, to whom they have lost only once in the last four years.

CHIEF PROBLEM: Perennial lack of good football material matriculating at Columbia. In last 10 years, Lions have topped 500 mark only once.

TYPE OF ATTACK: Multiple T with veer.

for a while in their eventual 40-13 drubbing, has departed.

In Columbia's 10-7 loss to Lafayette last week, it was guilty of three interceptions (out of just 10 passes thrown) and four fumbles. The Tigers have lost their last two games at Baker Field by a total of three points (14-13 two years ago and 22-20 in 1971), so that the one-sided triumph which appears virtually inevitable Saturday will be welcome to the few thousand Princetonians who plan to attend.

PHS Hopes for Win over Ewing Saturday after Hamilton Defeat

"We'll be trying a little harder next week; we'll get it," said Princeton High School football coach Jim Beachell commenting, after the Little Tigers' opening 15-2 loss to Hamilton, on the next game with Ewing.

PHS will meet Ewing Saturday at 1:30 at Ewing. The Blue Devils defeated St. Anthony's, 21-20, in their opener in a contest that was not quite as close as the score indicated.

PHS will have to contain Ewing quarterback Jerry Davis if it expects to win. Davis passed for two Ewing scores and added the other on a 34-yard keeper. The junior play-caller is being hailed as the school's best quarterback in more than a decade.

Ken Hoagland is Ewing's principal running threat. He scored seven touchdowns last year as a sophomore.

If PHS has an edge it may be in tradition. The Little Tigers have always played well against Ewing and enjoy an advantage in the series. Last year, PHS stopped the Blue Devils, 26-14. Both PHS (4-5) and Ewing (3-6) last year suffered through five-game losing streaks.

Breaks Decisive. Beachell and Hamilton coach Bill McEvoy both felt Saturday's win by Hamilton was decided by breaks. "The fates must have been smiling on us," agreed McEvoy. "You must have gone to church this week," was Beachell's comment as the two met in midfield after the game.

Hamilton scored on the first play of the second quarter when its quarterback, Karl Johnston, ran the wrong way on a keeper but still managed to score from three yards out. He was almost tackled behind the line but managed to squirt free.

In the same period, halfback Mike Griffith scooped up a wild pitchout and was able to make his cuts on a slippery field. PHS was not so lucky.

Tackle Jim Lennon almost had Griffiths but slipped, and defensive end Dan Schulman slipped trying to make an open field tackle. After sliding by Schulman, Griffith was in the clear and raced 55 yards for the score.

"They broke two big plays on us," said Beachell, but he added later that he was not disappointed with his team's performance. "I think the kids played a good game. They have nothing to be disappointed about at all. There's no reason for them to hang their heads."

The second half was dominated by PHS. On the first play from scrimmage after the intermission, fullback Eric Ziolkowski raced 38 yards to the Hamilton 27. It was Princeton's longest advance of the game.

However, the drive stalled when, on a fourth and eight, Tommy Thomas' pass to Dave Lacy was a half-foot short. Hamilton took over possession but not for long. Johnston stepped back, turned and threw to fullback Fred Harris on the side, a favorite play that had worked well for the Hornets in the first half.

This time the pass was high and skidded off Harris' hands. By the time he was able to catch up to the ball he was tackled by Anthony Cirullo and Tony Strong in the end zone.

Keith Wadsworth returned Hamilton's ensuing kickoff from the 20 to the Hamilton 37. Ziolkowski gained nine yards and it looked as if PHS would be knocking again. However, a holding penalty changed that. Instead of a second-and-one from the 28, PHS was pushed back to its own 43.

Thomas spent a large part of the half scrambling, trying to pass on the run but while he had a few successful plays,

CLOSING THE GAP: Nate Harris, PHS linebacker, reaches out for Hamilton runner Mike Griffith returning a punt in fourth period. Unidentified PHS tackler has hand on Griffith's foot, slowing him down. Harris played an outstanding defensive game, but PHS lost its opener, 15-2.

Hole-in-One Contest
The annual Hole-In-One Contest sponsored by the Princeton Policemen's Benevolent Association 130 will be held Sunday, from 10 to 6 at the Springdale Club practice range, Lower Springdale Road.

Proceeds are used to sponsor youth programs in the area. It is $1 for two shots.

First prize is a color television set and numerous other prizes will be awarded.

PHS was unable to put enough of them together to sustain a drive.

Thomas Sparks Team.
Thomas had replaced starting quarterback Scott Thompson with about four minutes left in the first half. He soon connected with Lacy for a 27-yard strike. It was only the second first down for Princeton (the first came as a result of an offside penalty) but it was the spark that the home team needed to come to life in the second half.

PHS was unable to move in the first half, exhibiting a combination of first-game tenseness, lack of timing and lack of imagination in its attack. Some below par punting also kept handing Hamilton good field position in the early going.

Shortly before the end of the first half, Hamilton had another opportunity to score when Strong fumbled a pitchback and the visitors recovered on the PHS 14. A 25-yard field goal attempt by Jeff Fish on fourth down was wide.

Beachell commended the fine play of Ziolkowski ("fantastic game") and Lacy ("tremendous") after the game. "Rendall, Harris, Seagers...they all did a beautiful job."

The front defensive line of Ziolkowski, Chris Cahill, Tony Cirullo, Lennon and Rendall was very effective, as was the linebacking of John Hoover, Nate Harris and Dave Seagers. Ken Bullock, Strong and Paul Soderman were the defensive backs. Schulman the safety.

"The defense is coming around," agreed Beachell. With the experience and needed confidence it gained, it is ready for Ewing. The big question is, will the offense come around.

SOCCER CLUB MEETS
First Practice Held. The newly-formed Princeton Soccer Club met for the first time Saturday at the Valley Road fields off Witherspoon Street. The session began with training in fundamentals and techniques by Richard Broad, assistant coach at Princeton University and director of the club.

Several members of the Princeton University soccer team were on hand to demonstrate various skills and assist the youngsters with their play. The boys and girls were then organized into teams for scrimmages and practice games.

Within the next two weeks, all participants will be divided according to age and ability level into teams which will compete on a regular basis in their respective leagues. Each team will be sponsored by a business in the community and will play a league game under the supervision of its own coach every Saturday.

Well over 100 youngsters are currently involved in the Princeton Soccer Club but there is still room for those who wish to join and have not yet had an opportunity to do so. Boys and girls may still register by calling 924-5613 in

PDS WINS SQUEAKER
 Montclair Academy Next. Princeton Day School's football team, a 6-0 victor over Dwight-Englewood last week in the final 31 seconds of play, will oppose Montclair Academy Saturday in quest of its third straight win. The game will be played at the PDS field, starting at 1:30.

"Montclair will be our toughest game so far, possibly the whole season," commented PDS coach John Boneparth. He and the Panthers had some of their confidence shaken by Englewood.

"No doubt about it, we have an awful lot of improving to do," said Boneparth. "We played poorly and Englewood played exceptionally well. We were lucky to win the game."

It was not quite a Merriwell finish against Englewood but almost. With a little over two minutes left, PDS took possession on its own 16. Its first play lost four yards.

Baggett Connects. On the next play, Panther quarterback Bill Baggett hit his end, Mark Zawadsky, the play covering 60 yards to the Englewood 30. A drive by halfback Mark Blaxill on a fourth and one kept the drive going and with 321 seconds left, Baggett hit Steve Judge with a 16-yard scoring strike.

Just before PDS mounted its eight-play scoring march, Englewood had a first and goal from the eight. In four plays, however, the Panthers had pushed the home team back to its 16.

Baggett completed half his 14 attempts for 117 yards, Judge hauling in six for 53 yards. "The only way we could move was in the air," said Boneparth. Both teams, he added, suffered from a sloppy field, PDS suffering in addition from sloppy execution.

On the ground, PDS ran the ball 48 times for a meager 71 yards, less than two per carry. Billy Martin, its high scoring tailback, carried 16 times for 38 yards. Englewood was keying on Martin and bringing its backs in, was using virtually a 10-man line.

PDS had its chances, as Englewood turned the ball over five times on interceptions and fumbles. But the Panthers were unable to capitalize. "They moved the ball better than we did," said Boneparth.

Dave Barondess was singled out for his punting by Boneparth, who reported that the sophomore averaged 31 yards for five punts "in the slop."

HOMECOMING AT PDS

Numerous Contests Scheduled. Teams from Princeton High, Stuart and Montclair Academy will face Princeton Day School Saturday in a variety of contests highlighting the annual fall Homecoming.

The day begins at 10 with a Junior soccer and football game and girls varsity soccer against Princeton High. At 11

the varsity field hockey team will entertain Stuart.

The varsity and junior varsity boys soccer teams and the girls junior varsity will begin their contests at 11:30. Prior to the 1:30 varsity football game, with Montclair Academy, the Panther cross country team will take on Montclair's harriers. The Athletic Association will have a refreshment stand and lunch can be purchased. All events are open to the public without charge.

SUNFISH, LASERS VIE

In Carnegie Sailing Races. With William Connors manning the committee boat at the starboard end of the starting line and Nancy Henderson calling out the numbers as they crossed the finish line off the dock, Sunfish and Lasers competed Sunday in the weekly races held by the Carnegie Sailing Club.

Walter Gibson, racing his first day of the season, took the honors with first place in the Sunfish Fleet. Dan Mazzarella did well in the five races and placed second; Bob Chapman was third.

In the Laser fleet, John Henderson came in first while Doug Boone, sailing well against stiff competition, placed second. After the races the club held its annual fall picnic by the lake.

HOME OPENER SATURDAY

For West Windsor Eleven. "We made the young team type of mistakes that seemed to hurt us, but our kids played a good game. They have nothing to be ashamed of."

So commented Rex Walker following an opening 20-0 loss last week to Lawrence by his West Windsor Pirates, who will play their home opener Saturday against Point Pleasant Beach. The game will be played at Mercer County Park, West Windsor's temporary home field. Kickoff is 1:30.

It will be out of the fire into the frying pan for West Windsor. The shore team, 38-0 conquerors of the Pirates last year, won its opener, 27-16, and Walker reports, "they don't have many guys but they're quick and they love to play."

He added that Point Pleasant didn't appear to lose much through graduation... "and if it has, it hasn't hurt them."

Running Game Fizzles. Inability to get their running game going and poor field position in the second half (inside their own 10 in their last four possessions) kept the losers from getting on the board.

Quarterback Darryl McPherson completed 7 of 16 passes for 76 yards for West Windsor, including three to Bill Schroeder for 46 yards. Ken Byzezynski led the Pirates defensively with 11 tackles.

Walker said that he felt the sloppy field was more of an advantage for Lawrence, which he described as a "grind-it-out team," than it was for West Windsor with its "more open" attack. As it was, Lawrence lost the ball four times on fumbles as Jay Edenfield recovered two and Chris Holcombe and Rudy Vellnitz one each. West Windsor, in turn, also turned the ball over four times, twice on interceptions. Lawrence also sustained 95 yards in penalties to zero for West Windsor. "We had a nice game as far as penalties and getting our different teams on and off the field," said Walker.

West Windsor held the favored Cardinals to one touchdown in the first half. The kids were hitting and they were competitive. They felt confident at the half," reported Walker.

But a 54-yard scoring dash by Rich Levy early in the third period kept the momentum

Tennis Tournament Here...Princeton University's highly-regarded team is rated the favorite in the 15th annual Eastern College Athletic Association Division 1 Tennis Championships scheduled for the University courts on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The Tigers have won the team title the past two years in convincing fashion. In 1974, Princeton's Bill Dutton won the Class A singles title, Eduardo Gentil the Class B crown and John Hayes the Class C title, and all three players return this season. Dutton and Fisher are also the defending Class A doubles champions.

There will be 20 teams competing for the team championship, with Columbia, Harvard, Penn and Navy rated the strongest challengers to Princeton.

Competition on Friday and Saturday will start at 9 and run through the late afternoon. The doubles and singles finals will be held on Sunday morning at 11. The tournament is open to the public, free of charge.

with the home team Cardinals. Lawrence did not score its third TD until the final 19 seconds.

DELAYED OPENER WON

By Hun Eleven, 12-8. The Hun School football team defeated Newark Academy, 12-8, Monday afternoon as Terry McEwen scored the victors' first touchdown and set up their other with a 24-yard run. Originally scheduled for Saturday, the game was postponed when rains had left the gridirons of both schools in unplayable condition.

Hun will have its home opener Saturday at 2 when it plays host to St. Andrew's. Hun coach Dave Leete who has seen St. Andrew's (2-0) play this year reports "they're not that big but they're quick. They'll be tough to handle."

Punt Blocked. With seven minutes left in the first period, Tim Teel of Hun blocked a Newark punt and McEwen scored on the next play on a sweep from three yards out. The kick for the extra point failed. That was all the scoring in the first half.

Newark went ahead in the third period when it drove the length of the field and added a two-point conversion. Hun regained the lead in the same period after McEwen's 24-yard burst carried to the one-foot line and quarterback Nick Brady bucked over for the tally.

McEwen, who gained more than 1,000 yards last year for Hun, had 101 yards in 11 carries against Newark. Because of the poor field conditions, Hun attempted only three passes the entire game.

Leete praised his defensive unit, claiming "it won the game for us. Everyone (on defense) played well." Hun made a lot of first-game mistakes, he said, including losing the ball four times on fumbles, but that was offset by two blocked punts.

Kennedy Out. The game was not without a setback, however, as Hun lost Tom Kennedy, 220-pound linebacker and guard, for the season with a broken leg. "That's going to hurt us," said Leete.

He reported that after Teel had blocked the punt in the first period, Kennedy picked up the loose ball but was sandwiched and hit hard by two Newark players.

Kennedy had transferred this year to Hun from New Providence High School, the Group 2 State football champion last year.

CLASSES SCHEDULED

For Winter Tennis. The week of October 20 will mark the beginning of the Princeton Community Tennis Program Winter Season. Outdoor Fall classes are already in progress with a record enrollment.

Brochures outlining daytime and evening instruction for all ages are in the mail. There will also be information about seasonal court reservation.

Any tennis player who would like to be added to the Program's mailing list should call the Tennis Office (924-4343) between 9 and 5 weekdays.

Lighting up Your Local Government Should Make You Happy.

Closed executive sessions result in decisions and plans which affect the future of your taxes, your neighborhoods, and your way of life.

There's no reason why only those on the platform at a public hearing should know what facts have been debated, what guidelines have been drawn, what decisions have been reached ahead of time.

The remedy is open executive sessions of the Township Committee, Planning Board, and Zoning Board, whether or not required by state law.

We believe public officials should function in public.

It could be tougher for us, but it's going to be better for you
